United Fund Drive Passes Third of Goal

$64,251 in Pledges Reported at First Meeting of Workers

United Appeals Goal	$170,462.00
Reported to date	$ 64,251.07
To be raised	$106,210.93

Salesmen and saleswomen in the 1953-54 Marion County United Appeals campaign turned in pledges and contributions in the amount of $64,251.07 in the first report meeting Monday night at the YMCA.

The sum, nearly 38 per cent of the goal, represented a week's work on the part of the campaign workers who set out Monday, Oct. 12, to raise $170,462 to carry on the work of the agencies comprising United Appeals—the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Marion County Unit of the American Cancer Society, Marion Community Foundation and the Marion County Heart Association.

Division Reports

Reports by divisions were as follows: Manufacturers Council, $14,800; Industry other than the council, $4,789; Industrial Employes, $11,838.06; Special Gifts, $11,200; Suburban Business, $302; Public Employes, $748; Clubs and Organizations, $438; National Firms, $4,945; County, $633.75; Public and Parochial Schools, $2,195.38. Downtown, $5,036.50; Residential, $4,617 88; Professional, $2,707.50. Total $64,251.07.

Public and Parochial Schools are nearing their goal with well over 80 per cent of their contributions accounted for, the women's division is in sight of their quota of $9,991 and National Firms have something over $2,000 to go before reaching their goal of $6,000.

'Must Not Let Up'

While it was an encouraging "first report" for the 85 men and women gathered for the dutch treat dinner, there must be no let up of "hustle" if the "harvest" is a successful campaign, they were warned by Henry A. Krigbaum, speaker for the meeting.

Reminding the workers of the campaign background which has been set up through months of work on the part of the campaign committee, he said the success of the drive depends on salesmen and saleswomen seeing their prospects.

He stressed the importance of seeing all prospects, covering the ground early, thereby allowing time for a re-check of prospects not seen in the early part of the drive. The harvest, he said, is the real good the money realized in the campaign will do.

Pays Tribute to Workers

J. B. Bray, president of United Appeals, paid tribute to the workers, who, he said, put the campaign ahead of their personal comfort and pleasures. They are doing this, he said, because they feel an individual responsibility in contributing their share in helping to make Marion County a better place in which to live.

He urged the workers to include in their salesmanship the objective of the "united" drive, which means giving one instead of four times a year, and asked those at home to welcome the campaign.

Disturbed United Nations Faces Angry Debate Over Jordan, Trieste Problems

SHARPENED SABRE FOR AIR FORCE. The U. S. Air Force's new North American F-100 "Super Sabre," successor to the battle-tested F-86 Sabrejet, speeds through the air in a test flight. The F-100 is the Air Force's first operational jet fighter to exceed the speed of sound in level flight. The Super Sabre, with swept-back wing and tail, is 45 feet long, 14 feet high, and has a 36-foot wing span. It has a service ceiling above 50,000 feet and a combat radius of over 500 miles.

Israeli-Arab Question Top Agenda Issue

West Set To Fight Red Demand Trieste Be Internationalized

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council braced itself for a double-header today—Soviet demands for the internationalization of disputed Trieste and continued debate on a Big Three call for a probe into the bloody Arab-Israeli border squabble.

The Arab-Israel question was first on the twin bill with the 11-nation group meeting to decide how the item shall be listed on the agenda. U. S. delegates reportedly huddled with the council's sole Arab state representative, Lebanon's Charles Malik, to seek a phrasing acceptable to all.

Big 3 Asks Action

The United States, Britain and France asked for an urgent council session on the Palestine issue after denouncing an Israeli attack on a Jordan village last week in which Jordan claims 66 lives were lost.

The council yesterday approved a U. S. suggestion that it request Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike of Denmark, chief of staff of the U. N. truce supervision organization in Palestine, to fly here and report fully to the council. He is not expected to arrive until late in the week.

Later today the council was scheduled to continue debate on the Soviet - sponsored move to name a Swiss governor for the free territory of Trieste under permanent U. N. control.

Both Principals Oppose

Both Yugoslavia and Italy oppose that solution for the future of the strategic area, which each claims. Yugoslav Foreign Secretary Koca Popovic asked the council last night for permission to be heard when the question comes up. If tradition is followed, this permission will be granted, although Yugoslavia is not a member of the council.

Italy did not immediately request a hearing. Although not a member of the U.N., the Rome government keeps a permanent observer at the international organization's headquarters.

The Trieste dispute flared anew when Britain and the United States announced they would withdraw their occupation troops from Zone A of the divided territory and turn it over to Italy's administration.

Tito Threatens

Yugoslavia, which now controls the territory's Zone B, protested violently and President Tito threatened to march his troops into Zone A the moment Italian forces set foot in that area, which encompasses the vital Adriatic port city of Trieste.

At a Big Three foreign ministers' meeting in London last weekend Britain, France and the United States invited both Italy and Yugoslavia to a five-power parley aimed at reaching a peaceful settlement of the Trieste dispute. Yugoslavia's permanent representative at the U. N., Leo Mates, said he believed his government would agree to such a meeting.

Tito and other Yugoslav leaders, however, have declared they feel such a parley would be useless if Britain and the United

Rescue Parties Head for Site Of Plane Crash

Wreckage Seen From Air in Mexico; 14 to 20 Believed Aboard

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP)—Rescue parties struggled into rugged Devil's Back Canyon today to reach the burned wreckage of a government - owned plane that crashed yesterday en route to the U.S.-Mexican fiesta officially opening the Rio Grande's Falcon Dam.

There were unconfirmed reports in Mexico City that J. Clifford Safley, managing editor of the San Diego, Calif., Union, was aboard the plane. Officials of the newspaper said they had not heard from him and expressed concern over the lack of any word. Mexican authorities reported they had no knowledge of his whereabouts.

Estimates of the number aboard ranged from the officially reported 14 believed to have been assigned seats on the two-engine Dc3 to 20 or more. Two of those on the official passenger list of 14 turned up elsewhere later, but officials feared others may have gotten aboard the ill-fated plane without listing their names.

One of Several Used

The plane was one of more than a score assigned to take newsmen, officials and entertainers to the dam ceremonies, highlighted by the meeting of President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mexican President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines.

It smashed into the side of the canyon, only about 15 miles from Monterrey Airport. Search planes reported sighting no sign of life around the wreckage.

The official estimate of the number of persons aboard was made by Col. Radames Gaxiola, assistant chief of President Ruiz Cortines' military staff. Among them, he said, were several of Mexico's top newsmen, including Carlos Violante diplomatic reporter for Mexico City's El Universal, Carlos Septien Garcia, editor of Universal's weekly supplement, and two newsreel cameramen.

Girl Dancer Missing

Also missing and believed to have been aboard the plane were four girl dancers from the government's fine arts institute. They had been scheduled to give an exhibition of traditional Mexican dances during the Eisenhower-Ruiz Cortines meeting.

Officials at Monterrey Airport said "about" 20 persons actually climbed aboard the plane before it took off shortly after 7 a.m. yesterday.

The confusion over the number of persons aboard arose from the failure of the approximately 250 airlift passengers, who had arrived here earlier on a special train from Mexico City, to take seats assigned to them in the planes.

Ignoring the official plan, many groups of friends had climbed aboard the same plane, taking all the seats and forcing others assigned to the craft to board another. Some planes went out fully loaded, others only half full.

GOP Rally Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 800 persons are expected at a $50 a plate Republican rally dinner here tonight.

Guest of honor will be Leonard C. Hall, Republican national chairman, the principal speaker, Sen. John W. Bricker (R—Ohio) will deliver a tribute to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Friendship Pledged

New Dam Bolsters U.S.-Mexico Unity

FALCON DAM, Tex. (AP) — A gleaming monument of stainless steel marks the border where the Presidents of the United States and Mexico pledged friendship as strong as international Falcon Dam.

Presidents Eisenhower and Adolfo Ruiz Cortines stood yesterday in front of the monument where an imaginary line across the dam separates their countries and dedicated the Falcon project as a symbol of unity.

Note of Tragedy

Earlier, Eisenhower crossed the Rio Grande to the brand new town of Nuevo Guerrero as the guest of Ruiz Cortines at a musical festival that had a note of tragedy.

A plane carrying 14 or more persons to the fiesta, including ballet dancers to perform for Eisenhower, crashed between Monterrey and Nuevo Guerrero. All aboard were believed lost. But there was no indication that either President had been informed of the crash.

Following the fiesta, Eisenhower entertained Ruiz Cortines and some 50 guests at lunch on the Texas side of the dam before the dedication ceremony. Both presidents flew back to their capitals last night.

Three thousand sweating citizens of both nations held out against the blazing border sun to cheer their chiefs of state at the dedication.

60-Foot Shaft

The sun struck shafts of light from the V-shaped, 60-foot monument. The moment of dedication came when drapings around its base were dropped, revealing the great seals of both nations, one on each side of the V.

Speaking slowly, intensely and in Spanish, President Ruiz Cortines told the crowd at the dedication that the dam was more than anything a source of "human prosperity" for "a vast group of human beings—men, women and children—without distinction of nationality, race, language or religion".

President Eisenhower, looking out over Falcon Lake toward the church tower that is the only thing you can still see of the inundated town of Falcon, Tex., said the dam in the deepest sense was "created in the hearts of the citizens of two nations who respect and believe in one another".

He said these are people who despise totalitarianism in any form and he promised friendship and concern for the well-being not only of Mexico but of all the neighbor Americas.

Artillery pieces boomed 21-gun salutes as the two Presidents left the border to return to their own banks of the Rio Grande.

The dam was built to conserve water and prevent floods for the rich citrus and vegetable lands that extend through the river's lower valley to the Gulf of Mexico. It cost about 47 million dollars.

Sifritt Issues Warning After 3 Grass Fires

Three more bonfires spread to grass in and near Marion yesterday, causing fires which could have resulted in serious damage.

The danger of burning trash now, after a long rainless spell has left grass and leaves tinder dry, was emphasized by Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt, who said he may be forced to take action to prevent people from setting bonfires.

Yesterday's grass fire came on top of two fires over the week end.

The more serious blaze Monday was reported by the Marion Engineer Depot. A fire broke out at 3:35 p.m. as the result of a bonfire just east of Municipal Airport and spread into a section of woods.

Fire Chief Sifritt said this morning the fire was caused by sparks from a bonfire set by Claridon Township workers who were cleaning the side of a road.

Firemen were at the scene of the blaze until 7:05 p.m. No es-

4 E. German Police Shot by Anti-Reds

BERLIN (AP) — Four Communist police officers have been shot to death by anti-Red bands in Soviet-occupied Cottbus, East German authorities confirmed today. Cottbus is a town of about 50,000 population 70 miles southeast of Berlin.

The Cottbus party newspaper said the police "lost their lives in the fight against the Fascist underground movement."

Three of the officers were killed, apparently in an ambush, in the Brandenburg textile town Saturday.

One was slain "a few days earlier by the same murderers," the Communist Lausitzer Rundschau reported.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State civil defense headquarters has announced an alert for Dec. 6 which will include stopping all traffic in Ohio. Thane M. Durey, CD spokesman, did not release details, but said radio and sirens would sound the alert.

POW Interviews Off

Red Truce Staff Boycotts Meeting of Commission

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The delay-riddled Communist efforts to woo 22,400 ex-Red soldiers home to communism halted indefinitely today after the Reds were turned down flat on demands that the POWs be dragged to the explanations by force if necessary.

Stung by the rebuff from India, Switzerland and Sweden, the satellite Polish and Czech delegates on the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission (NNRC) walked out yesterday and gave no indication when they would return. They did not show up for today's NNRC meeting.

The explanations apparently were postponed indefinitely — at least until the NNRC can get operating again.

Observers speculated that the Red walkout could be a prelude to dropping their persuasion efforts entirely in an attempt to avoid more of a propaganda whipping than they have already taken in two days of interviews.

Only 19 of 921 Chinese who heard the Red pleas to return home chose the door to communism. The others refused—most of them with raucous, violent denunciations of the Reds.

Despite the lopsided results, the interviews with the 7,800 Chinese POWs had been proceeding smoothly, but the 14,600 Koreans completely stopped the show with a belligerent refusal to even listen to the Red persuaders.

In the repatriation commission Monday, the Polish and Czech members pressed the Red demands that the Koreans be brought to the interviews by any means necessary.

Outvoted by the other three members, they left, stopping all action by the NNRC.

Wyandot Jury Hears Murder Case Testimony

Panel Weighs Evidence Against Schinagle; 13 Witnesses Called

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Thirteen witnesses were scheduled to testify before the Wyandot County grand jury here today with evidence against 19-year-old Ohio Wesleyan University student, Roy Schinagle Jr., charged with the slaying of his college sweetheart, Cynthia Pfeil, 19, of White Plains, N. Y.

Slated to testify are: Carl Gatchell of Upper Sandusky, Wyandot County road employe, who discovered the girl's battered body along a county road on Sept. 17; Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister, main investigator in the case; Upper Sandusky Police Captain Calvin Swartz; Dr. B. H. Hathaway, county coroner; Captain Justin E. Cornely of the Marion Police Department, who was called in to assist in the interrogation of Schinagle; Joseph Martino, Arnold Fetter and E. E. Galloway of the Criminal Bureau of Investigation at London, O.; Robert Pfeil of Columbus, brother of the slain girl; R. J. Constein, commercial photographer at Upper Sandusky, who was called in by the Wyandot sheriff to take official photographs of the body and the scene; John Montag and David Kellogg, Ohio Wesleyan students; and Janice Teachout, member of the Cleveland family at whose home the Pfeil girl stayed before she went to Delaware.

The jury is expected to remain in session until about 4:30 p.m. today and perhaps later, pending the time needed to present testimony. It convened again this morning at 9 o'clock after clearing the way yesterday of six lesser cases. Consideration of the Schinagle case is slated to continue tomorrow.

Wyandot County Prosecutor Harold Roth filed first degree murder charges against Schinagle.

Car Driver in Fatal Accident Charged

Charges of second degree manslaughter have been filed against John A. Knotts, 23, of Waldo, by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph E. Carhart.

The charges arise from an automobile-train collision Friday night which resulted in the death of Daniel King, 34, of near Marion, a passenger in the Knotts car. Knotts drove the car into the side of a C. & O. freight train which was at the crossing on County Road 195, north of Marion.

Robert Massie, 40, of Morral, charged with second degree manslaughter in another fatal accident, is being held in the county jail pending arraignment which will be held after an attorney is secured for his defense.

Massie was the driver of a car which was in a head-on collision with a motorcycle early Sunday morning. The accident resulted in the death of the motorcycle rider, Clifford L. Clark, 35, of the Werley Hotel.

Reviews Trieste Issue

Dulles Talks to Ike On Session of Big 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain reportedly have decided to slow down evacuation of their troops from disputed Trieste while they try to resolve Italy's and Yugoslavia's bitter quarrel over the area.

Secretary of State Dulles had an appointment to review this potentially explosive problem with President Eisenhower today in a personal report on the London Big Three foreign ministers' conference.

Other Matters

Dulles was also reported set to give the President first-hand accounts of proposed Western moves to deal with touchy situations in three other areas—Korea, Germany-Austria and the Israeli border.

Diplomatic officials familiar with the Trieste maneuvering said Eisenhower and Dulles both believed it would be best to move slowly in evacuating some 7,000 American and British troops now garrisoning Zone A.

The idea was that a slowdown would lessen the chance that Marshal Tito would make good his threat to move his troops into the Allied zone rather than let Italian forces take over in accordance with the U. S.—British proposal of last week.

Would Gain Time

It would also give American, British and French diplomats time to arrange an acceptable basis for a conference with Yugoslavia and Italy.

Informed diplomats emphasized any decision to delay U. S.—British evacuation would in no way mean the two powers are backing down in their decision to turn over the zone to Italian control.

This was the American view of other key world problems which Dulles was reported ready to give the President.

Korea—The State Department favors sending Special Ambassador Arthur Dean to Panmunjom Thursday on schedule to discuss a Korean peace conference with the Communists, even though the latest Red China note on this is regarded as unsatisfactory.

Dean would be empowered to listen to Communist demands that

Cabbie Called In Greenlease Ransom Hunt

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police investigators, veiling their inquiries behind closed doors, today continued digging into reports the FBI has discovered discrepancies in police accounts of the Greenlease kidnaping case.

One of the officers who arrested Carl Austin Hall, the confessed kidnap-slayer of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, was questioned periodically for 10 hours as the inquiry got under way yesterday.

The investigation by Chief of Police Jeremiah O'Connell centers around the handling of two suitcases in which about half of the $600,000 ransom money was recovered. Some $300,000 is still missing.

Patrolman Elmer Dolan, who O'Connell said is not under suspension nor held on any charge, was the first witness called in the closed-door probe.

Lt. Louis Shoulders, Dolan's superior officer in the arrest, was under a physician's care for a nervous condition and was report-

Freedom Shrine Dedicated

Ex-Gov. Cooper Speaks At Harding High School

Myers Y. Cooper of Cincinnati, former Ohio governor and past national Exchange Club president, spoke to an audience of more than 1,000 Harding High School students in an assembly this morning in the school marking the formal dedication of the Freedom Shrine, a series of famous American documents presented to the school by the Marion Exchange Club.

Cooper told the audience "I could say nothing more important to you than that you become acquainted with our form of government, how it came into being and the progress that has been made, because we do have the right to make the most out of our lives and enjoy the benefits and blessings under the banner of freedom.

"These documents that we are dedicating today will certainly inspire any young person to become a real American citizen. These Freedom Shrines which you will read, some today, some tomorrow, will become more interesting as you become acquainted with them and the great purpose back of them.

"You will realize that this is a land of opportunity for you, made possible because of the blessings you enjoy as a result of the pattern of life so well laid down in these documents," he added.

Then he told the students "I am sure as you read the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights and others, you cannot help but become thrilled and inspired to take advantage of the opportunities for your future happiness. Our forefathers envisioned a pattern of

Army Readies Big Welcome For Gen. Dean

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army prepared a hero's welcome today for Maj Gen. William F. Dean, the top American soldier captured by the Communists in Korea.

Honors due ranking heroes and visiting foreign chiefs—greetings by Gen. Matthew B Ridgway, Army chief of staff, music by the Army band, a salute fired by a field gun battery—were arranged for Dean's arrival at National Airport.

Dean, who commanded the first thin line of U. S. resistance to the Red onslaught in Korea in July 1950, spent three years in enemy captivity. Winner of the nation's highest military award, the Medal of Honor, he returned to the United States more than a month ago. He has been resting on the West Coast.

Later today he will call at the Pentagon to receive further top-level greetings from Secretary of Defense Wilson and others. He may also find out what the Army has in mind for his future.

A call on President Eisenhower at the White House has been arranged tentatively for tomorrow morning, after which the general who led the 24th Division in its initial stand against the Communists in the Far East plans to visit hospitalized veterans of that unit at Walter Reed Medical Center here.

The Army has not given any hint about his future. Dean, 53 and with 30 years' active service, is reported to be in good physical condition.

"I'm not an old man yet" he said yesterday on leaving his home at Berkeley, Calif. "I'll have to see what the Army wants with me."

Reds Find Ways To Stall

Korean Pact Weakened by Loopholes

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the United States and the United Nations had made the Chinese say precisely what they meant in 1952, there might be no wrangling now over starting the Korean peace conference.

That's a big "if," of course. And the Chinese, if it suited their purpose, still could have wrecked the conference one way or another, before or after it started, no matter what they said in 1952.

The conference was to have opened by Oct 28, three months after the truce began July 28 The three months have been spent trying to agree on who should take part in the conference

On Monday an American representative will sit down with the Chinese at Panmunjom to talk about it some more.

The United Nations and the Communists began truce talks in the summer of 1951. Before the shooting could stop, both sides wanted a number of armistice points agreed to.

For instance, agreement on a demilitarized zone between the two armies when the truce began.

It took the U. N. and the Communists only a few months to agree on all points except one.

That one, the major obstacle, was repatriation of prisoners. The Reds wanted all prisoners returned, forcibly if necessary. The United Nations insisted that no prisoner should be returned against his will The U. N won its point.

By February 1952, the U. N. and the Communists had agreed on 60 paragraphs in the truce agreement. It took them from then until the summer of 1953 to agree on voluntary repatriation of prisoners.

But it's paragraph No. 60 in the truce terms—agreed to Feb. 19, 1952, or 17 months before the agreement on prisoners—which is causing all the trouble about a peace conference now. It said:

"In order to insure a peaceful settlement of the Korean question, the military commanders of both sides hereby recommend to the governments of the countries concerned that within three months after an armistice is signed and becomes effective, a political conference at a higher level of both sides be held by representatives appointed respectively to settle through negotiations the question of the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, a peaceful settlement of the Korean question, etc."

But what does "both sides" mean" The United States insists it means only the nations which took part in the fighting Red China and North Korea on one side; the United States, 16 other United Nations countries, and South Korea on the other The United States says "both sides" does not include neutrals

Therefore, the United States says only those 20 nations which did the fighting can sit in on the conference.

No neutrals? This country says none except Russia. (Russia was neutral only in the sense that she did not openly get into the fighting. She supplied the Chinese and North Koreans.)

But the Chinese insist that "both sides" means that not only the belligerents but also neutral nations—they want Russia, India, Indonesia, Burma and Pakistan—can take part in the conference.

The Chinese now would find it difficult to mess up the conference, at least on this point, if the United Nations had insisted back in February 1952 on pinning the Chinese down precisely on what "both sides" meant

The State Department says the minutes of the truce talks prove this: that the Chinese have reversed themselves: that in 1952 they said they wanted no neutrals to take part in the conference; and that paragraph No. 60 was worded the way it is because the Chinese wanted it that way to keep out the neutrals.

Yesterday Red China's Premier and foreign minister, Chou En-lai denied China ever held neutrals should be excluded. But paragraph No. 60 is so vague in other ways the Chinese could still twist it to wreck the conference. For example: What does the "etc" which ends paragraph No 60 mean? The two sides could argue forever on that

U.S. Pledged To Fight, ROK Delegate Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If peace talks are unsuccessful, the South Korean army will "march on North Korea" and the United States and her allies are committed to "march into battle" with the ROKs, South Korean U N Representative Ben C. Limb said last night.

Col. Limb, appearing on a nationally televised panel show, told a group of college students the Republic of Korea has a firm commitment from the United States to back up the South Korean forces in such an eventuality.

Ike May Ask Congress To Hike Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration was reported today seriously considering asking Congress to increase the present 75 - cent - an - hour minimum wage

Former Secretary of Labor Martin P Durkin had decided before he resigned last month to ask White House clearance for a request to raise the minimum to $1

Durkin's successor, James P Mitchell, is now putting finishing touches on all the department's legislative proposals. Responsible sources, both on Capitol Hill and in the Labor Department, said they think Mitchell will give full support to a higher minimum wage and that the odds are in favor of White House endorsement.

Peg Lynch Hits Jackpot

Pen Pays Off, Radio-TV Writer Finds

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—All women have a way with words, but Peg Lynch has a way of making them pay

One of the brightest girls in the big town, she has turned out so much prose her output makes the biggest dictionary look like a pocket magazine

"Some day I'd like to write a book," she said, and if she really put her mind to it well—it probably wouldn't take her more than a week

We sat down and figured out how many words she had authored in her career as a radio and television writer The total was roughly 11 - 600 000—the equivalent of 116 books of 100 000 words each

"But I still want to write a real book or a good Broadway play she said wistfully 'If I ever can find the time

Time is what Peg has the least of She both writes and plays the leading role in "Ethel and Albert," a radio and TV marital comedy she has kept going for nine years

She spends Sunday and Monday writing it, and the rest of the week end'essly rehearsing and publishing it Her average day begins at 5 a m and may go until nearly midnight She never has a full day off

'I have to wash my own hair because I don't have time to go to a beauty parlor" she said "I even have to have someone else buy my clothes for me—and no woman likes that — because I can't take the time off to go shopping"

Peg is a slender friendly brunette who looks just like the kind of a wife the average would like to come home to which explains her charm as an actress She also likes to write about typical married life situations she recalls from her Midwest days

She and the late Thomas A Edison have one thing in common Edison is supposed to have said "Genius is two per cent inspiration and 98 per cent perspiration' Peg's success formula boils down to a simple four-letter word odious to most of us daydreamers, any way you spell it it comes out—"w-o-r-k"

Peg was born in Lincoln, Neb Her dad died when she was an infant She was raised in Minnesota, went to the state university wrote and acted in school plays After working for the mayo clinic she landed a job with a small Minnesota radio station

"I wrote 250 spot commercial announcemens a week," she recalled "And I also turned out a daily half-hour woman's show, a weekly little theater show, a 15 - minute farm news program, three 10-minute plays and two 5 - minute sketches a week"

The pay was $70 a month—and the problem was trying to find time to sleep. She still has the same problem, but the pay is better

"I wouldn't trade that experience for a million dollars," she said 'Anyone who wants to do anything in radio or TV can't beat the training you get in a small town, where you have to learn to do everything"

Peg has no feeling the cards are stacked against a woman in the television world

"Except on the business side" she added smiling "I've never managed to learn to add or subtract well'

It rather dismays her that most people think of writing as easy, and acting as difficult

'Writing is work to me—the acting is fun," she said "People look on writing as something they could do as well as you or better, is they just weren't so busy Everybody he could have been a writer if life hadn't detracked him into doing something more important'

She glanced down at the paper with figures totaling her output at 11 600,000 words

"It's appalling," she said, grinning ruefully 'Plain appalling Television is a monster It's insatiable It just eats your mind ve"

But it shows no signs of wearing down Peg Lynch

Congressmen In Columbus Hear Foust

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's agriculture director today told the House Agriculture Committee butter would sound better than bombs to the hungry people of the world

The director H S Foust, presented his views on 10 pressing farm questions as the committee met in the State Office Bldg to get personal views of Ohio farmers

The committee, which is ending a tour of Midwestern farm states, previously asked Foust for his views

Ohio has about 200 000 farmers and regularly ranks among the top 10 agriculture states in the nation About 20 million of Ohio's acres are devoted to farming

Foust said in answer to the committee's question on whether the foreign trade program should be changed

"Wouldn't butter sound better than bombs to the hungry people of the world' Would it not also help American agriculture, too? Does it make sense to give a hungry man a gun ostensibly to help protect us and not give him food too'"

He suggested that on the basis of our Christian creeds and propaganda programs that our defensive alliances could be greatly enhanced by the use of our excessive food stocks, along with our military aid

"The effect of the decline in the volume of exports of agricultural products is or should be obvious to most of our Ohio farmers by the fact of lower prices and production allotments" answered Foust, himself a farmer of near Plain City

"If farmers are to continue all out production then similar all out marketing efforts must follow because our government cannot and should not continue to store farm commodities in excess of a safe supply for the protection of the American people in a national emergency"

Foust said foreign markets offer the greatest chance of increased consumption, and added:

'In lieu of food giveaway programs there surely must be some other trade arrangements about which we individual farmers know little, but which can be used or at least tried'

A Proposal to be Voted on Nov. 3

This proposal is part of a highway legislative package which has been adopted and which has as an objective:

The Expediting of Ohio's Long Delayed Highway Improvement Program

Additional highway funds in an amount of $42 million per year will be provided by the one cent per gallon increase in gasoline tax together with the truck axle tax (already enacted).

The Fundamental Question At Issue Is:

Whether the people of Ohio wish to accomplish these highway improvements on the slower pay-as-you-go basis or . . whether you wish them within an 8 to 10 year period

Court Testing Of 'Fair Trade' Laws Refused

First Attack on New Federal Law Rejected In U.S. Highest Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has refused to act on the first attack on the new federal "fair trade" law to reach it, but this does not necessarily mean the door has been closed to more challenges.

It does mean that the decision by a U. S. District Court in New Orleans upholding the law will stand unless there is an adverse ruling later.

The law allows manufacturers, by agreement with retailers, to set prices at which products will be sold to consumers in the 45 states which have "fair trade" laws.

Even if signed by only one retailer in a state, the agreement is made binding on all other dealers in that state—including those who refused to sign.

Schwegmann Brothers Giant Super Market of New Orleans challenged constitutionality of the law in a petition which the Supreme Court rejected yesterday.

Last week the court refused to consider an appeal from a ruling of the Georgia Supreme Court that the state's trade law was illegal.

Schwegmann had petitioned the high tribunal to overrule federal courts in New Orleans when ordered the market to sell Eli Lilly and Co. insulin at the state "fair trade" price of $2.83. Schwegmann, a nonsigner, had sold the product for $2.08.

The Supreme Court has said in connection with similar actions in the past that such a rejection of an appeal has no conclusive legal significance. The rejection lets a lower court's decision stand at least for the time being as the law within its own jurisdiction. But it does not declare approval of anything said by lower courts in support of their decision.

Why Not Now?

If some presidential critics were to be taken at their word, they expect Dwight Eisenhower to pull a white rabbit out of the hat every time he appears in public.

To do anything less, the way they seem to think of it, is to disappoint the audiences he will talk to during what is frankly a political expedition to let his countrymen know he is in touch with their problems.

The presidential critics who have this idea are just as anxious to help the country as anyone else. But this might be as good a time as any other for them to admit something which has been kept out of sight for a long time.

This country hasn't been doing very well on a political diet of white rabbits.

Franklin Roosevelt was as handy a man with a white rabbit as Americans ever will see. Harry Truman was no slouch, either; he is given credit for winning a national election in 1948 with a white rabbit named Storage Bins. And in 1952 Eisenhower, himself, went into the white-rabbit business with a specimen called Trip to Korea.

But eventually it must be admitted it isn't white rabbits the United States needs. It needs a more dependable basis of economic activity than the war boom which accompanied World War II and the giveaway program which kept things booming between the end of World War II and the beginning of the war in Korea.

Someone, sometime, must tell the American people they can't depend forever on bloody-money inflation. Dwight Eisenhower is not the type to try to divert his countrymen with white-rabbit flourishes.

Well-Rounded Mr. England

Since Sir Winston Churchill was edged out of the Nobel Prize for literature in 1949 by a whisker, it was mandatory that he be recognized soon after. The recognition finally has come this year, at the expense of Ernest Hemingway—but Mr. Hemingway has time to wait.

Sir Winston will be 79 at the end of next month. His adult lifetime has spanned all the great events of the last half century. But there is nothing remarkable about that. It has happened to many Britons.

Sir Winston has grasped the significance of the history he has helped to make as an outstanding figure of his era. He has been able to write about it in prose which has become classical during his lifetime.

He has been not only a public figure but one of the most intensively cultured individuals of his day. He has been a writer, a painter, an architect, an orator, a humorist at times and a statesman. He has been a naval expert, a military strategist, an exponent of full living, a designer and even a bricklayer.

During most of his years he also has been heckled by pipsqueaks, with whom he has dealt in a manner befitting his natural margin of superiority. It has been said often—but not too often—that Winston Churchill comes as close to fulfilling the ambitions for modern civilization as any individual is likely to come.

His recognition by the Swedish Academy of Literature is an excuse to say it again.

Open Door Policy

There is a new open-door policy in the world. It is generations ahead of the old open-door policy, which was merely an arrangement among the western powers to share and share alike in the exploitation of China.

The new open-door policy deals with an attitude toward the Soviet Union. It declares that no possibility of understanding shall be shut out by the closing of a diplomatic door on the frightened men of the Kremlin.

The government of Russia again is being given a chance to accept an invitation to talk about the settlement of old problems in Europe — and all other international tensions if the Kremlin wants to broaden the scope of the conversations.

This is primarily on Prime Minister Churchill's insistence, though it has been backed up powerfully by President Eisenhower's attitude.

Churchill believes on the basis of events since Stalin's death that the Soviet Union is in a state of change. He regards it as susceptible to new ideas and new circumstances. Being a philosopher - statesman with a record of many rebuffs for ideas which were turned down, he has developed the art of patience.

He warned in the thirties that the Soviet Union was on the march. He warned in the forties that the Soviet Union should not be allowed to occupy the Balkans. He is warning in the fifties that the diplomatic door should be held open for a new regime in Russia because its Communist dictatorship is just as susceptible to change as any other kind of government.

Churchill might be right. He has been right before.

Illusory Myth

By David Lawrence

Election Results Interpreted To Fit Purpose

President Franklin D. Roosevelt used to say that congressional elections are essentially "local," especially when a presidential nominee isn't running, and he lived to see the Democratic majority in Congress reduced even when he himself was running.

The special election in Wisconsin last week, in which a Democrat defeated a Republican for Congress, is being mistakenly interpreted as a sign that the Republican party is not as strong as Eisenhower.

Actually, in 1950—before Ike ran—the Republicans captured 22 out of 26 governorships in the states outside the Solid South.

In 1952, the Republican party again won governorships in nearly all the northern states and the vote in several instances exceeded what Eisenhower got.

There is no more illusory myth in politics than the claim about a presidential nominee being stronger than his own party in congressional elections just because his total vote is larger than the total vote for Congress.

In every presidential election in the last half century the successful presidential nominee has run ahead of the congressional nominees except once, and that was in 1948 when the Democratic candidates for Congress generally ran ahead of President Truman. Very little was heard then about Mr. Truman being weaker than his party.

The election statistics, usually compiled many months later, attracted very little attention and did not offset impressions of his political strength formed after election day in November 1948.

The latest statistics for the 1952 election, which have just been printed by order of the clerk of the House of Representatives, if examined carefully, show that there isn't the slightest evidence to prove Dwight Eisenhower was everywhere stronger than his party in November 1952.

There is evidence that, because of the separation of ballots, hundreds of thousands of persons didn't vote for members of Congress on either ticket although they did vote for president.

In California, for instance, 578,000 persons who voted for president didn't vote for either congressional ticket.

In New York State, 218,000 presidential voters failed to vote for any congressional candidate.

Minnesota was an exception, as nearly 9,000 more persons there voted for members of the House of Representatives than for president. Also in that same state Sen. Thye, Republican—the victor in the senatorial contest—ran 22,000 votes ahead of Eisenhower, who also carried the state.

In West Virginia, even if former Sen. Revercomb, Republican, had polled as many votes as Eisenhower got, he still would have been deficient by 50,000, which was the excess that Sen. Kilgore, Democrat, got over Eisenhower.

Again in Vermont, as in Minnesota, the Republican senatorial nominee ran ahead of Eisenhower. Sen. Flanders received nearly 2,000 votes more than Eisenhower.

In Kentucky, John Cooper, Republican, won the race for senator and Eisenhower lost the state.

In Delaware, Sen. Williams, Republican, ran about 3,000 votes ahead of Eisenhower, who also carried the state.

In Missouri, while Ike carried the state by 30,000 votes, Stuart Symington, Democrat, ran 49,000 votes ahead of Eisenhower.

In Rhode Island Sen. Pastore, Democrat, ran 15,000 ahead of Eisenhower, who carried the state.

In many a state, the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for senator or for Congress ran ahead of Stevenson but failed nevertheless to overcome the majority vote of the Republican nominee for Congress. Yet one hasn't heard much talk about Stevenson being weaker than his party.

The most interesting thing the statistics show—though it has happened in almost all elections heretofore—is that many voters of both parties do not take the trouble to vote for anyone except the presidential nominee, and in most states it isn't possible any more to make a single mark and vote for the entire ticket, whether it be Republican or Democratic.

Using round figures, the total vote for all candidates for the House of Representatives, as compared with the total vote for both Stevenson and Eisenhower in the November 1952 election, shows the following number of voters who in certain states cast a ballot for the presidency but not for members of the House.

Arizona 12,000, California 578,000, Colorado 24,000, Conecticut 4,000, Idaho 12,000 Delaware 4,000, Illinois 19,000, Indiana 20,000, Iowa 125,000, Kansas 73,000, Kentucky 43,000, Maryland 61,000, Massachusetts 95,000, Michigan 27,000, Nebraska 43,000, New Hampshire 15,000, New Jersey 104,000, New York 218,000, Oregon 29,000, Ohio 318,000, Pennsylvania 73,000, Washington 84,000, Wisconsin 39,000.

This was the rule in most other states, too, but an exception to the rule was West Virginia, which cast more votes for members of Congress and for senator, respectively, than for the presidential nominee.

Finally it might be asked of those who have been repeating the myth that Ike is stronger than his party and who have been placing particular emphasis on the alleged weakness of the so-called "isolationists" of Middle West Republicanism, as contrasted with the alleged strength of the so-called "internationalists" of Eastern Republicanism, what they make of the Massachusetts figures in 1952. For, although Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican of the Internationalist category, polled 58,000 votes more than Stevenson and 77,000 more votes than were cast for Republican nominees for the House of Representatives, he still lacked 70,000 votes to catch up to John F. Kennedy, who won the race on the Democratic ticket.

Incidentally, Kennedy ran 81,000 behind Eisenhower, who carried the state. So, if Ike is stronger than the Republican party, he must be considered in Massachusetts to have been much stronger than the Democratic party, too.

The real answer is that no evidence exists to justify any inference that party strength nationally, as reflected in the votes for congressional candidates, has a significant relationship to the popularity or unpopularity of either the president in power or the presidential nominee who wins his own election.

The "coattail" theory has long been discarded by those in politics who know what a strong personality on the opposite ticket or a dominant local issue can do to a congressional candidate who relies solely on a presidential nominee to pull him through to victory or, in a midterm congressional election, depends only on a president's record as the major suport for his own candidacy.

It Was a Mistake

By TRUMAN TWILL

With the return of sinus weather, the sound of sniffing once more rises above the clatter of worthwhile activity. Snrf.

If nature could do it over again, its arrangement for getting air into the lungs would be designed more cleverly. The nose is only the beginning of a series of blunders which would have brought the dismissal of any so-called designer who made such a travesty of his trade. The whole respiratory tract is a mess.

Anyone with a piece of paper, a pencil and a diagram of the mess can knock off a few obvious improvements without trying.

The nose, to start with, is on the wrong side of the head. It should be on the back, well out of the way, like the stack on a Japanese aircraft carrier, or the tail pipe on a passenger automobile.

In this position it would be more difficult to suck the nose into places where it would get pinched, and it also would be easier to keep clean. Moreover, since there is nothing intrinsically attractive about noses, they'd be out of sight back there and ideal for swimming, like blow-holes on whales.

Instead of sucking in air headon through a complex labyrinth of sinuses, duets and passageways, the user of a nose would regard it as a favor if he could ingest his supply through something no more complex than, say, a furnace filter which would strain out insects.

The filter could be removed and brushed clean a couple of times a day like a dental appliance. This would do away with handkerchiefs, nose and throat specialists and all the drug-store paraphernalia for keeping people from smothering to death though surrounded by atmosphere.

It would do away with the thumping, gnawing discomfort of sinuses which have had all the smog, fog, soot and humidity they can take and are lighting up with fiery inflammations and infections. It would improve the efficiency of the human race in the sinus belt by 27½ per cent during sinus agony season, which lasts 12 months a year but is worst from early fall to late spring.

With no noses in sight and no more of the dying bloodhound expressions which go with sinus discomfort, the human race would be a great improvement on itself. There are some other things about the respiratory tract which could be changed for the better, too. Snrf.

The lungs should be worn externally and be replaceable at small extra charge with something made by duPont. While making this improvement, it would be better to wear the lungs upside down, with a small trap door in the passageway connecting them to the nose and throat, so buttons and hard candy could be removed handily with the help of gravity.

And while this was being arranged, something sensible should be done about the inefficient trap door which now lets honey, powdered sugar, beverages and so forth trickle into the windpipe by mistake. In about a week of diligent effort, the whole respiratory tract could be systematized and made as workable as, for instance, a carburetor on a truck.

Plans for 1956 Are Lausche's Secret

By Jay C. Hayden

One thing respecting the appointment by Gov. Lausche of Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland for U.S. senator, to which all qualified on-the-spot observers seem to agree, is that it puts the Ohio Democratic party's two best feet forward for the 1954 election.

Whether Burke runs for senatorial re-election or switches to gubernatorial competition, leaving Lausche the senatorial berth, these observers say, the Republicans have a hard row cut out for them both ways. That both of these men will be on the 1954 Ohio ticket is accepted by all hands as a foregone conclusion.

And there is added the prediction that the answer as to who will run for what must await the day, next February, when entries close for Ohio party primaries. One of Gov. Lausche's most confirmed characteristics is that he never makes his intentions known until the last possible moment.

The present senatorial appointment is an instance in point. Sen. Taft died last July 31 and ever since then newspaper reporters at the Ohio Capital have maintained literally a night and day watch on the governor without developing a single real clue.

If the governor counseled with anybody about the senatorial appointment, that person has not been discovered. Mayor Burke says his first inkling that he was to be appointed came when he read Lausche's announcement that the appointment had been made.

Gov. Lausche did say some days ago that whoever he appointed would not vote to upset Republican control of the Senate. Due to Sen. Taft's death the party lineup in that body became Republican 47, Democratic 47, Independent (Wayne Morse of Oregon) one. Since Morse recently announced that henceforth he will vote with the Democrats on matters of organization, replacement of Taft with a Democrat might shift party control.

Both Lausche and Burke denied emphatically that there was any understanding between them as to whether Burke would run for reelection. A peculiarity with that regard is that the election in 1956 may be for a full six-year term, rather than the unexpired two years of Taft's tenure.

A new Ohio law says that, in event of a vacancy, the governor shall appoint someone to serve until the next general election. But there is no specification as to whether the election then shall be for the unexpired term, or for a new full term.

Lausche and Burke are alike in that they have shown marked disrespect for group leading strings—by Democratic party higher-ups, organized labor business, agriculture, or what-not.

Even when he was running for governor as a Democrat, at the same time Taft was running for senator as a Republican, Lausche dared to speak kindly of the Taft-Hartley law. That year, 1950, Taft won by 431,000 and Lausche by 150,000.

Last year Lausche won over the Republican gubernatorial nominee, Charles P. Taft, brother of the senator, by more than half a million, while Dwight D. Eisenhower was carrying the state by 496,000 and Sen. Bricker, Republican, by 321,000.

Burke was born in Cleveland, the son of a physician who figured prominently in the administration of Cleveland's most famous mayor, Tom L. Johnson.

Young Burke grew up in politics. He served as assistant county prosecutor, assistant state attorney general and city law director before beginning, in 1945, a longer service as mayor of Cleveland than any other occupant of that office.

Selection of Burke for senator is the more remarkable because throughout his early career he was a close henchman of Ray T. Miller, former mayor and present Democratic city boss of Cleveland, and a bitter enemy of Gov. Lausche.

It was Lausche, however, who picked Burke as his mayoral successor and the latter's present prime allegiance no doubt is to Lausche, rather than Miller.

Burke's success may have stemmed partly from his acknowledgment from the beginning that he was no orator. He has developed a political style of his own, marked more by action than by big talk.

When crises arose, and there have been plenty of them in course of his eight mayoral years, he has somehow managed to get along with them without outward furor, and seemingly to the satisfaction of a great majority of constituents of all classes.

On the assumption that Gov. Lausche aspires to nomination for president or vice president in 1956, quite a few Ohio observers guess that he will go for an unprecedented fifth term as governor because, historically, that office has proved a better stepping stone to high national preferment than membership in the U.S. Senate.

Among presidents since the Civil War no less than seven — Hayes, Cleveland, McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson, Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt — previously served as governors.

And seven other governors—Seymour, Tilden, Smith and Dewey of New York, Cox of Ohio, Landon of Kansas, and Stevenson of Illinois—were nominees for president who failed or election.

During the same after-Civil War period the only U.S. senators to be nominated or elected president were Warren G. Harding and Harry S. Truman.

U.N. Has Earring Surplus

UNITED NATIONS, New York—More earrings are lost here per lovely capita than any other single item, perhaps more than anywhere else in the world.

Earrings, according to a man surrounded by a barricade of abandoned odds and ends in the United Nations lost and found office, have a way of falling off the ears of women visitors and women delegates when they put on headsets to listen to debate in the conference halls. The office has accumulated several small crates full of earrings.

Earrings are one of a couple of dozen items that are lost at the United Nations daily.

Guards take lost articles to the office, where they are stored until claimed. About 80 per cent are eventually returned. Left-overs are auctioned off among secretariat workers twice a year, the proceeds being donated to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

The telephone rang four times in five minutes in the office today, and John Jenkins, of Baldwin, L. I., who is in charge, answered.

A woman asked whether a mink neckpiece had been found. It had.

A man asked whether his glasses had turned up; he had terrible eyesight and—. They had.

A woman wanted to know if a pearl earring she had lost while listening to the Moroccan debate had been located. It had.

Shelves in the lost and found office are full of recent discoveries. These include 86 umbrellas, several Russian books, a Chinese book, half a dozen coats, 12 men's hats, fountain pens galore, galoshes, a doctor's handbag, several suitcases, $92 worth of gift certificates, an automobile hubcap and a miniature Statue of Liberty.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Wednesday, Oct. 20, 1943.

Threatened on their left flank by a swift American drive that cut forward five miles, the Germans fell back from the Volturno valley to a fresh mountain line, leaving behind them one of the war's worst scenes of destruction.

Robbery Case Double Cross Charge Hurled

Defense Attorney for West Virginia Woman Lashes Prosecutor

WHEELING, W VA. (AP)—An enraged defense attorney, charging a "double cross," said he would seek a writ of habeas corpus today to release from Ohio County Jail the "mystery woman" of the Sammons robbery case.

Atty. Thomas P. O'Brien said Mrs. Mary Balderson, arrested on armed robbery charges, had been promised immunity for her part in solving the $100,000 theft puzzle.

He said Mrs. Balderson, a part-time window cleaner, had furnished the tip that led police to the arrest of Phillip C. Anderson, 46, self-described leader of the trio which police say robbed the Warwood physician's home a week ago.

O'Brien told reporters his client had been double-crossed by Prosecutor Joseph A. Gompers, whom he said had promised her immunity.

"I don't see why she was even arrested," he said.

Gompers denied the charge as "entirely without foundation and grossly inaccurate."

Meanwhile, authorities faced a new problem as the two other suspects, arrested in Dallas, Tex., suddenly refused to waive extradition proceedings yesterday.

Jimmy Fugitt, 34, and Harry Ward, 43, both told Dallas police they would waive extradition here, but they backed out when the waivers were handed them for signatures.

Gompers said his office now is preparing extradition papers, which must be signed by Gov. Allen Shivers of Texas and Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia.

Anderson is being held in county jail here. All three were arrested Friday and have signed confessions, authorities said.

Mrs. Balderson first entered the case yesterday, although references had been made to a "mystery woman" last week.

No clue to the identity of the woman was known until Monday noon, however, when Deputy Sheriff James Cunningham arrested Mrs. Balderson, about 32, at her home here.

She was booked on an armed robbery charge with bond set at $10,000. Gompers at the time would not confirm or deny she was the much discussed informant.

Within an hour after her arrest, O'Brien called in the reporters.

"This woman volunteered this information and she was scared stiff because the two men who aided Anderson were said to be tough," O'Brien told the press.

"I don't see why she was even arrested because she was promised immunity by Mr. Gompers himself when she gave authorities the tip that wrapped this case up."

Gompers was voluble in his denial of any double cross.

"Had Mr. O'Brien contacted me prior to issuing his statement, I feel that he, as a former prosecuting attorney himself, would have agreed that my actions were fully warranted by evidence disclosed by investigation subsequent to his client's statement," he told reporters.

Gompers said the promise of immunity was based upon Mrs. Balderson's assertion that she was merely an innocent victim of circumstances; that she inadvertently told Anderson of boxes in Dr. W. P. Sammon's home and that she said she would have nothing to do with Anderson's offer of 10 per cent of the loot if she cooperated.

Investigation showed, however, she knew positively the boxes contained large sums of money and that she was an active participant in the planning, for which she was to receive a 10 per cent cut, Gompers said.

"It is significant to note that this information was obtained prior to the issuance of a warrant for Mrs. Balderson and was available to Mr. O'Brien who himself was the first to disclose that she was the mystery informant," Gompers concluded.

Rep. Hope Sees No Reason for Worry

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee says he can see "no economic reason for the apprehension existing among many of the nation's farmers."

Rep. Clifford Hope (R—Kan), in Columbus for a committee hearing today, told a newsman the "farm price decline has been leveling off."

"In fact," he said, "prices for farm goods have decreased ½ per cent this year, compared to a 12 per cent decline in 1952."

He said prices are no lower now than they were in 1948 and 1949.

2 Cars Pilfered, Not Halloweeners

Reports of two cars being pilfered were given today by Marion police. Monday afternoon, Ellis Epley of 318 S. Grand Ave. called police and told them someone had ransacked his car parked at the rear of the home. Automotive parts and accessories valued at $25 were taken from the car.

Shortly after midnight last night, Clarence Shuler of near Marysville reported his car had been pilfered while it was parked on the Marion Power Shovel parking lot at the end of W. Columbia St. Monday between 3 p.m. to midnight.

Shuler told police whoever had gone through his car had broken the aerial, cracked the left front vent glass, pried open the trunk lid, and stolen the spare tire and wheel, hydraulic jack, and a wrench. Value of the property was $30.

Police Chief Tom Coon said today the incidents were not Halloween pranks. He said they were probably the work of persons who wish to take advantage of the Halloween situation to cover their deeds.

Three Injured In City, County Auto Mishaps

Patrol Investigates 2 Accidents, Marion Police Report Three

Three people were injured in five Marion County accidents reported by the police department and the state highway patrol this morning.

Two were hurt in a three-car accident at the junction of Routes 95 and 98, about five miles east of Marion, at 4:43 p.m. Monday. It was one of two accidents investigated by the state highway patrol.

Injured were Maud Conley, 57, of Oil Springs, Ky., who was treated for bruises on the head, and C. B. Robbins, 63, of Clyde, who suffered shock and a possible fractured right shoulder. Both were taken to Marion City Hospital.

Fails To Stop

The accident occurred when Christina Hildwein, 65, of Clyde, was heading north on Route 98 and failed to yield the right of way to a west-bound car on Route 95, driven by Martha Conley, 18, of 258 Leader St., patrolmen said.

After striking the Conley car, the Hildwein vehicle hit a south-bound car on 98 which was stopped for the stop sign at the intersection. The third car was driven by Homer Pearson, 32, of 603 Davids St.

The Hildwein car was extensively damaged and the Conley car received moderate damage on the right side. The Pearson car was damaged moderately on the left front fender.

Robbins was a passenger in the Hildwein car. Maude Conley in the vehicle driven by Martha Corley.

Driver Charged

Hildwein was cited to appear in Municipal Court today on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

A one-car accident at 9:05 p.m. yesterday involved a vehicle driven by James Seckel, 17, of near Caledonia.

Seckel was going north on Route 98 when he attempted to make a left turn about one mile above the junction of Route 95 and 98. In making the turn he went off the road, hitting a telephone guy wire and damaging slightly the left front fender of his car.

Boy Slightly Injured

A 14-year-old boy was slightly injured in one of four accidents investigated by Marion police Monday. The boy, Arley Cerney of 160 Jefferson St. was injured when the bike he was riding collided with a car at the intersection of Union St. and an alley.

The car was driven by E. Carl Gianero, 29, of 282 Willow St. He told police he was stopped in the street when the boy came out of the alley on his bicycle. The youngster was injured in the left arm and shoulder. He was treated by a local physician.

Gianero was cited to appear in Municipal Court today to answer two charges, one of failure to yield the right of way and the other of going the wrong way on a one way street.

At 1:38 p.m. Monday, cars driven by Clifford W. Ozias, 73, of Columbus and James L. Brimnfield, 38 of 366 Waterloo St. were damaged in a collision at W. Center and Union Sts.

According to police reports, the cars were damaged when Brimnfield backed his car into the one driven by Ozias damaging the right side and right rear fender of Ozias' car and the left front end of his own auto.

A car driven by Miss Stella Joan Gear was damaged when she struck two cars waiting for a traffic light at 239 E. Church St Monday at 8:12 p.m., police reported.

Driver of the first car was Dale E. Greenland, 34, of 226 Forest Lawn Blvd. The rear bumper of his car was damaged when the car driven by Harold E. Gatshall, 19, of 185 Fairview Ave. was pushed into it by the impact of being struck by Miss Gear's car. The front and rear end of Gatshall's car were damaged.

At noon Monday, the rear end of a car driven by M. R. Pritchard of Columbus was damaged when struck by a car driven by Peggy Lou Zeller of 641½ Cherry St. The front end of her car was damaged by the impact which happened at Main and Center Sts.

High Blood Pressure More Deadly in Men

CHICAGO (UP) — Fewer women die of high blood pressure than men, the Journal of the American Medical Association reports.

The Journal said the death rate among women is definitely lower, except in the more severe types, and increase of severity is slower. The Journal said mortality from essential hypertension (high blood pressure of unknown origin) is greatest among young persons and decreases rapidly with age.

The conclusions were reached by Drs. Robert S. Palmer and Hugo Mounch, Boston, after a 10-year study.

Ohio's House Democrats See Victory in '54

Should Capture Three Or Four Seats, Says Aide to Rep. Kirwan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Democrats should increase their representation in the House next year by two or three seats, a party campaign official said today.

"We're very optimistic about Ohio," said Kenneth Harding, assistant to Rep. Kirwan (D—Ohio), chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee.

"But in fairness to every congressman, I can't name, for the record, the districts now represented by Republicans that we think we'll win."

Ohio now has 16 Republicans, 6 Democrats and 1 Independent in the House.

Harding said one factor that should help Ohio Democrats is the "absence of the late Sen. Taft—Mr. Republican—from the party picture."

"Old Guard Republicans, those who supported Taft for the presidency, are becoming disillusioned," he said.

"I don't mean that these Republicans will go out and vote Democratic. But there is an increased apathy and a lot won't vote at all."

Also, he pointed out, President Eisenhower won't be on the ticket next November.

"Another thing in our favor" he continued, "is that a Democrat-Thomas A. Burke—has been appointed to replace Sen. Taft."

On statewide politics, Harding said a Democratic ticket headed by Ohio Gov Frank J. Lausche, running for reelection, and Burke, running for the Senate, would be "extremely powerful."

Harding said he was not basing his predictions on what happened recently in the Ninth Congressional District of Wisconsin, where a Democrat won for the first time.

"Each congressional district," he said, "has to be considered as an entity in itself. We have surveyed districts in Ohio and the country and in no place are we worse off than in 1952."

Harding said his party feels there is a "growing apprehension about the Eisenhower administration's policies, not only among farmers but among laboring people, too."

Cleveland Pays Tribute To Ohio's Famous Sons

CLEVELAND (AP)—A motorcade of Ohio's famous sons and daughters streamed through downtown Cleveland today, climaxing Ohio's sesquicentennial celebration.

After the last car rolled past the thousands of spectators the noted visitors were feted at a luncheon in their honor.

More than 1,000 tickets were purchased for the luncheon to honor such celebrities as Bob Hope, screen, radio and television comedian, newspaper Columnist Earl Wilson and Branch Rickey, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Ohio Products Honored

Most of the luncheon items were Ohio products and were renamed in honor of the state or its famous visitors. For example, there was "Supreme of Fresh Fruit, Theborn Fancy." That was to salute Blanche Theborn, the former Canton girl who now is a Metropolitan Opera singer.

There also was Johnny Appleseed Delight, Buckeye potatoes and Rockefeller celery.

Sixty persons were invited here to be honored, but only 31, many still Ohio residents, said they would be able to attend.

Eddie Rickenbacker, the World War I pilot ace, visited his Columbus hometown yesterday, but was called back to New York when an Eastern Airlines plane crashed there. Rickenbacker is board chairman of the airline.

Whether he would be able to make the festivities today was uncertain.

Welcomed by Burke

Mayor Thomas A. Burke, recently appointed to the U. S. Senate to fill the seat of the late Robert A. Taft, was assigned to welcome the group. Burke himself was feted last night at a huge civic dinner given in his honor.

Louis Bromfield, Mansfield author was to make the introductions and Gov. Frank J. Lausche to deliver an address extoling contributions made to the world by Ohioans. Both Bromfield and Lausche also were among the 31 being honored.

timate was made on the damage to the timber in the area.

O. L. Warren of the rear of 820 Cheney Ave. called for help at 3:55 p.m. He reported a bonfire in his yard had spread into the grass and an old lumber pile. Firemen from Central Station put out the blaze. No loss was reported.

Another bonfire which spread into the grass was reported at 3:45 p.m. by Mrs. A. Newell at 942 Oak Grove Ave. Firemen from the W. Center St. station extinguished the flames, which caused no property loss.

At 4 p.m., Elmer Plumley called firemen to Vernon Heights Blvd. where his car had caught on fire as he attempted to start it. Investigation showed the presence of a short circuit in the battery had ignited gas escaping from the fuel line. Damage was estimated at $200 by firemen from the Central Station.

neutrals such as India be included in the peace parley but could make no commitments, only report back to Washington for a final decision.

Germany-Austria — Dulles believes there is only a slim chance the Russians would agree to attend a Big Four foreign ministers conference at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 9 to discuss peace settlements for Austria and Germany. The Big Three powers formally invited Russia to do so in identical notes sent over the weekend.

Israel-Jordan — Dulles takes an extremely grave view of Israel's alleged violations along its frontiers of United Nations decisions and also of the Israeli determination to make Jerusalem her capital.

United Appeals Campaign Facts

Q. What if there were no United Appeals?

A. Then you would be faced squarely with four community-wide campaigns each year, or about one full-blown campaign every three months. These four organizations have cooperated to have concurrent campaigns for the good of the community in one drive. So join your 1953 neighbors in giving as much as you would if the four campaigns came to your door at one time.

States hold to their decision to turn Zone A over to Italy.

Warns Council

Russia warned the council last week that she would not countenance any decision on Trieste unless the Soviet had a hand in it.

As the council prepared to debate the threatening issue, Italy and Yugoslavia continued to act and talk tough.

Camouflaged units of a crack Italian division moved into positions yesterday near the point where the Italian-Yugoslav border meets the boundary of the free territory. They were the first Italian soldiers to move within a few miles of Zone A.

In Belgrade, the official Yugoslav Communist party newspaper Borba warned that Yugoslavia would not accept Italian occupation of Zone A "with or without troops." There had been unofficial suggestions that Italy might avoid a showdown with Tito by assuming control with police units.

On the Palestine issue, the United States has served notice that it will withhold American financial aid to Israel until the Jewish state abandons its project to divert the Jordan River along the Syrian frontier for irrigation.

U. N. Drafts Plan

The U. N. yesterday brought out its own plan for making use of the Jordan waters—a 121 million dollar "TVA on the Jordan" to provide irrigation and water power to both Arabs and Israeli.

But Cmdr O'Connell said Shoulders will be questioned "as soon as his doctor says it will be all right to do so."

Dolan, one of three witness questioned yesterday, was asked by reporters about his session with his superiors but he said he had been instructed "not to talk."

Shoulders, whose ailment was attributed by the physician to the officer's work on the case, withheld from newsmen a full explanation of the reported discrepancies, but said:

"I can explain to the proper authorities every move I made."

The arrest of Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady followed a tip to Shoulders by taxi driver John Hager that Hall was armed and spending money on a big scale.

O'Connell said Hager will be questioned today "if we are able to reach him."

Death Claims Retired Labor Union Leader

W. L. Hutcheson, 79, Was AFL Carpenters President for 36 Years

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—William L. Hutcheson, 79, general president of the AFL carpenters union for 36 years and a towering figure in the American labor movement, died in Methodist Hospital here today of a heart ailment.

The veteran labor leader was brought to the hospital Oct. 12 for a stomach examination and suffered a heart attack Oct. 15 before the stomach tests were completed.

Hutcheson, one of the few Republicans among top union officials, stepped down from the active presidency of the 822,000-member union Jan. 1, 1952, and was succeeded by his son, Maurice A. Hutcheson. The elder Hutcheson was named general president emeritus.

It was only a few months after his retirement that Hutcheson became involved in one of the bitterest fights of his career as an Indiana delegate to the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

The 32-member Indiana delegation was instructed by the Republican state convention to support Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the presidential nomination Hutcheson and one other delegate, Eugene C Pulliam, Indianapolis newspaper publisher, defied the instruction and voted throughout the convention for the eventual winner, Dwight Eisenhower.

Hutcheson stood virtually alone in the ranks of organized labor as a severe critic of the administrations of President Franklin D. Roosevelt for what he called "government's inroads on free enterprise."

A native of Saginaw County, Mich., Hutcheson was reared on a farm and had only a country school education. His father, Daniel O. Hutcheson, had been a ship carpenter and the son took up the trade at 16.

He joined the union in 1902 while working at Midland, Mich., for the Dow Chemical Co.

While an effort is being made to reach everyone, Mrs. Merle Hamilton announced that clubs or organizations wishing to make contributions may send them to Room 202, YMCA, or call her or Mrs. [illegible] and they will call for them.

Mrs. W. A. Dennis, vice chairman of the women's division, presided. The invocation was by Rev. Harrison L. Ludwig, pastor of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, and group singing of "America" was led by William Cowles.

The next report meeting will be next Monday night and will be a dinner at 6 p.m. at the YMCA. At this time the saleswoman in the county turning in the largest number of pledges, will be presented an orchid by the campaign chairman.

4-H Club Awards Made To James Johnson, Loren Fulton

Two Marion County young men, both 19, recently won top awards in the state for their work in 4-H Clubs. The two are James Johnson of New Bloomington and Loren Fulton of Caledonia.

Johnson won the state award for leadership achievement, while Fulton was top man in dairy achievement. Besides the state awards, both also won county awards for their work in local contests.

As state winner, Johnson was eligible to submit an entry in the national contest to determine a leadership champion for the entire country. For his state prize Fulton was awarded a free trip to the National 4-H Congress to be held in Chicago Nov. 29 through Dec. 3.

A 17 jewel watch was given Johnson for winning the state honor. In addition, both youths won medals in the county contests. Competition was part of the 4-H Club program, and was conducted by local and state Agricultural Extension Offices.

Johnson is the leader of the New Bloomington Lads. He is married and farms in partnership with his father. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Johnson.

AT THE MARION County Fair held in August, Johnson won the 1953 Danforth Foundation Leadership Award for being the outstanding 4-H Club young man in the county.

Along with his other work on the farm and as leader of the 4-H Club in his area, he is also a member of the New Bloomington Volunteer Fire Department. Last year, he found time to attend the American Institute of Cooperation at East Lansing, Mich. as a delegate from Marion County. He was one of the speakers there.

FULTON HAS BEEN a member of 4-H Clubs for the past eight years. Now he is chief advisor for the Claridon Buckeye Lads. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fulton, he lives on a 160 acre farm near Caledonia.

He has taken courses at Ohio State University in dairy husbandry, helping him become more qualified for his state award.

Last month, he and Donna Converse of Prospect were chosen to be members of the court of the Corn King and Queen at the State Corn Festival in Worthington.

government outdistancing all the world in providing opportunities to live a full and useful life," Cooper explained.

GILBERT HERR, president of the Harding High School student council, accepted one of the representative documents, a copy of The Star Spangled Banner, on behalf of the school from John W. Salisbury of the local Exchange Club and then presented it to Cecil Gabler, Harding principal.

Salisbury, district Exchange Club governor, was presenting the series of documents on behalf of the local as well as the national Exchange Club, which is presenting the Shrines to schools throughout the country as a national project. The documents, authentic photographic reproductions of the originals, are now on display in the main lobby of the school.

ON THE STAGE in addition to the speaker and Salisbury were Harding High School Principal Cecil Gabler, Assistant Principal Darl Gatchell, City Superintendent of Schools Lester Dickey, State Exchange Club president George Connley of Wauson, Harding High School student council president Gilbert Herr, Marion Exchange Club members and Rev. W. L. Stafford, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church.

Cooper was to speak at Wesley Church at noon today at a luncheon in his honor after Exchange Club members took him on a tour of the city.

In closing, Cooper said "Every generation, every individual faces the necessity of winning freedom for himself and each faces the ever present danger of losing it." He told the students that the documents comprising the Freedom Shrine would mean "nothing to us unless we perpetuate them in our hearts and in the life of our nation."

After a formal opening which included the singing of the Star Spangled Banner with Miss Sally Schneider at the piano, the pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the invocation by Rev. Stafford, Principal Gabler told the audience that although the high school had received many gifts from service clubs, the Exchange Club was the first to suggest one, and that the local club "really started it going."

Testify at Hearing

Farm Leaders in Ohio Split on Price Supports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio farm leaders divided sharply today on the question of how much help Uncle Sam should give in supporting their prices at a hearing before the House Agriculture Committee.

Recommendations for legislation in Congress plans to enact next year varied from proposals that price floors be boosted to 100 per cent of parity to suggestions a flexible support plan be set up.

H. B. Foust, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, told the committee he believed farmers favor continuance of the present program of supporting major crops at 90 per cent of parity.

This was the recommendation made to the committee by a big majority of farmers in the South, and in the western and central corn belt.

The committee has been touring farming areas in an effort to find out what kind of federal farm program farmers want. Legislation Congress passes may have a strong influence on the farm vote in next year's congressional elections.

In contrast to Foust, Fred J. Greiner, representing the Ohio Dairy Products Assn., urged adoption of a flexible support plan sponsored in the past by the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation.

On the other hand, President Everett Rittenour of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, an affiliate of the American, told the committee he was not in the position now to say whether members of his organization still back a flexible support program.

He explained, as did farm bureau leaders in several other Midwestern states, that a poll of members was being taken.

"The position of the Ohio Farm Bureau will be what Ohio farmers want," he promised.

But Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, in a statement prepared for the Ohio Farmers' Union, called for full 100 per cent parity supports on all products.

He said if Congress did not see fit to go that far, it should at least continue the present support program.

"Unfortunately, resolutions adopted by state and national organizations are too often the expression of the ideas of top officials and frequently of headquarters professional staff members and are not statements that have been evolved naturally from free and open discussion, in meetings and local communities."

Chairman Hope (R—Kan) told newsmen, before the hearing started, the committee had encountered quite a bit of apprehension among farmers because of declining farm prices and high production costs.

"Some had fears of a depression," he said. "But there is nothing like a depression in sight. We have effective measures—such as farm price supports—to prevent a sharp drop in farm prices.

The committee today winds up its tour of Midwestern farm areas ready to challenge any who say farmers do not want present high, rigid price supports continued.

Members jumped quickly to answer a statement by President Allan Kline of the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation that the lawmakers had made up their minds to extend present farm laws before they started making trips to the country.

Reps Lovre, South Dakota Republican, Hoeven, Texas Democrat, and Albert, Oklahoma Democrat, said Kline's statement—made before an Iowa Bankers' Assn. convention at Des Moines yesterday—showed he did not know what farmers are thinking.

They said hearings held in the South and in the Midwest—from Minnesota, through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana—convinced them that farmers do not want a farm bureau proposal for flexible price supports.

The committee gives Ohio farmers a chance today to present their views at a hearing to be held at the State Office Bldg.

Today's hearing will be the last until the committee gathers again at Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 1 to make a opinion-collecting tour in western and Pacific coast states.

In an informal poll Sunday, members said the committee would vote overwhelmingly to extend present 90 per cent of parity price supports on major crops at next year's session of Congress. These supports will expire at the end of the 1954 marketing year unless Congress extend them.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

This poll brought from Kline—the chief advocate of flexible supports—the comment that the committee had made up its mind before it went to the country.

Singer Leaves Godfrey Show

Julius LaRosa Joins Sullivan, Is Report

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Julius LaRosa has departed from the cast of the Arthur Godfrey radio and television programs.

Orchestra Conductor Archie Bleyer has left Godfrey's morning shows and Wednesday night program and will step down from the Monday evening "Talent Scouts" in the next few weeks.

It was reported LaRosa would join the Ed Sullivan show.

The departures of the two from the Godfrey cast became known yesterday.

Godfrey announced on his morning program that LaRosa was leaving to try other phases of show business. He wished "Godspeed" to LaRosa, who appeared on the program, and then signed off.

A Columbia Broadcasting System spokesman later said LaRosa had not been dismissed by Godfrey and had made his own decision to depart.

It later became known that the 23-year-old LaRosa had signed a talent contract last week for the General Artists Corp. to manage his affairs and arrange personal appearances.

The New York Daily News said today Sullivan, a columnist for the News, had announced signing LaRosa as a regular on Sullivan's Sunday night "Toast of the Town" program. The Sullivan show is carried by CBS.

Ohio Commission Will Clamp Down On Harness Racing

CLEVELAND (AP)—The state racing commission is going to tighten up regulation of harness racing in Ohio, Chairman Zoltan Gombos said today.

Gombos told a reporter he would demand detailed financial statements from Ohio track owners and hoped to bring about state licensing of harness races.

Harness racing in Ohio now is licensed and enforced only by the U. S. Trotting Assn., which Gombos described as "an outside organization with little policing powers."

Along with the financial statements, he said, "We will require track owners to furnish us with a complete list of stockholders so that we can smoke out known racketeers, hidden owners and any stockholders who might be holding public office."

These Days

By George Sokolsky

The theft of the atom bomb by Dr. Klaus Fuchs and the Rosenberg apparatus reduced the value of offensive planning by the United States. The investigation into treachery at Fort Monmouth by the McCarthy Committee and the Department of the Army indicates that enough has been stolen to reduce the value of the defensive planning by the United States.

SOKOLSKY

Soviet Russia has brilliantly conducted its espionage in this country, employing mostly Americans for that purpose. Our counter-espionage has been inadequate.

From 1942 to 1947, the FBI was excluded from all counter-espionage work relating to the Manhattan Project and the Atomic Energy Commission.

THIS WAS DONE by Presidential order during the Roosevelt administration, although the AEC came into being in 1946.

Roosevelt and Churchill came to an agreement that British scientists sent to this country to work on atomic and other scientific projects would not be screened by the United States.

Thus, Dr. Klaus Fuchs, Dr. Bruno Portecorvo, and other British scientists, who turned out to be Russian spies, were never screened by anybody. The responsibility for this must be fixed.

It is inevitable that investigations into espionage open new doors all the time. One thing leads to another. It must be noted, however, that little of the main body of data is new.

Actually, in many important instances, the lines of suspicion have been clear for many years.

For instance, the existence of the Harold Ware cell, of which Alger Hiss was a member, was organized as far back as 1934 and was known to the Dies Committee as early as 1938.

Dr. William Wirt, the educator of Gary, Ind., exposed it even earlier and was literally hounded to death by the ensuing ridicule and humiliation.

MOST OF THE spies and subversives were not only retained in their positions but they were promoted.

Alger Hiss became the dominant personality in the State Department, Harry Dexter White in the Treasury Department; the Departments of Commerce, Agriculture and Interior were infiltrated.

During the war years, the defense agencies were deeply infiltrated.

It takes time to rediscover data that reaches back as far as 1934; it takes time to open new leads.

Be it said that just as James P. McGranery aided in hunting down espionage in the short period that he was attorney general under President Truman, so Robert T. Stevens, the current secretary of the Army, is doing a magnificent job in this field at the present time.

NO COVER-UP is possible while he is secretary of the Army. President Eisenhower has now issued an order to dismiss government officials who plead the fifth Amendment before congressional committees.

The value of the congressional committe eis that it is permitted to go on fishing expeditions. Espionage is a conspiracy, directed by experts from a great distance. It is covert and hopes to leave no trails behind.

The usual procedures in a court of law are inadequate and even with the best will assist, the law officers can indict few spies for more than perjury.

Alger Hiss was imprisoned for perjury, not for espionage.

Many of the continuing instances of espionage are not punishable for anything. Those who are obviously guilty and against whom the known evidence is conclusive, plead their rights under the Fifth Amendment and nothing can be done about it in a court of law.

PRACTICALLY all the known and living members of the original Harold Ware cell have been called before congressional committees, have plead the Fifth Amendment and are free to continue to spy on this country.

Unless an ex-Communist or an ex-spy is willing to talk, it is almost impossible to make a case. That is why Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley, Whittaker Chambers and similar persons are invaluable to the United States.

If such men as Philip Jaffe and Earl Browder would see the light and tell what they know voluntarily, it would, at this juncture, be very helpful.

UNFORTUNATELY many who have broken with the Communists and spies fear incrimination and therefore plead the Fifth Amendment.

Some of them talk in private, but when called, plead the Fifth Amendment in public hearings.

The executive session of the congressional investigations is valuable because data unavailable at public hearings is disclosed in the private sessions, even if subsequently smothered by the Fifth Amendment.

The McCarthy and Jenner committees have hit pay dirt in the country's interest.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

DETROIT

The heat on the racketeers in some sections of the AFL has cooled off the CIO's ardor for a merger of both outfits into one politically powerful coalition which could make or break local and national elections.

RIESEL

Some of those close to Walter Reuther, who will soon hit the headlines with a series of attacks on President Eisenhower's administration, believe the CIO can now go it alone despite reports that it is falling apart.

Judging from Reuther's rather amazing plans for the future, he appears little worried by these reports that CIO is cracking up.

He is, for example, preparing to build the only labor - owned television broadcasting station in the world. When completed and broadcasting over Channel 62 in Detroit, this station will be part of a million - dollar-a-year airwaved propaganda operation dedicated to CIO's type of unionism and New Deal political candidates.

THE STATION will cost the UAW-CIO Broadcasting Corp. of Michigan $500,000 for construction alone and some $400,000 a year to operate, even with commercial sponsors.

Plans for the station reflect Reuther's characteristic daring and imagination in the field of labor propaganda and education.

It is being built for the future—for broadcasting along UHF (Ultra High Frequency) lanes as compared to the more traditional VHF (Very High Frequency) reception of our current TV sets. However, a $50 to $60 contraption will soon enable regular sets to pick up UHF — and by the time Reuther's station hits the airwaves, this type of broadcasting may well be as popular as that on present frequencies.

The United Automobile Workers is seeking permits for similar stations elsewhere in the Midwest to match the license now being issued it by the Federal Communications Commission for operation in Detroit, where there are but three other TV stations. These are on the regular broadcast bands.

THE FCC EXAMINER who approved Reuther's application found the union "legally, financially and technically qualified to construct and operate a television station." Plans now call for six hours of daily telecasts, including "educational and cultural" news.

Typical of the auto union's policies in other fields, it as announced that it will try to run the station on a "non-profit" basis, but will seek enough commercial sponsorship to permit it to break even —if it can.

Word here is that the TV station, which must observe the FCC laws of objectivity, will nevertheless be beamed at keeping Michigan in the hands of the New Deal Democratic governor Mennen Williams. He has been as helpful to the maturing CIO as the late Frank Murphy was in the sit-down days from which CIO sprang back in 1937.

GOV. WILLIAMS is up for reelection in 1954. And already Reuther's statewide Political Action Committee has scheduled 19 conferences, some running two days, to cover the state's 18 congressional districts in the next five months in support of all Democratic candidates.

A clean sweep for the CIO-sponsored candidates can wipe out President Eisenhower's slender control of the House and Senate. Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson is also up for re-election, and the CIO will throw everything it has in Michigan into the fight to replace him with a New Dealer.

The election results in Wisconsin, which I've just left, cut Ike's hold on Congress down to 4 seats, a margin which can be wiped out in Michigan if Reuther is successful.

So the TV station, even with its one proposed Detroit transmitter, can be a powerful influence in national — and therefore international — politics.

THOSE AROUND President Eisenhower know this and the appointment of James Mitchell as secretary of labor without consulting, or even informing, the "Taft people" in and out of the White House is considered a bid to soften up the CIO's opposition.

They understand this inner political by-play it is important to know that those close to Ike believe that any concession now is worth making to avoid losing Congress.

The Taft people argued that most of the labor vote could be saved without trying to woo the national leadership.

THE DEWEY "camp" in the White House, eager to smash the influence of the late Sen. Taft's followers, have said, in effect, that Ike must fight for softening of the Taft-Hartley law and win over some of the labor leaders if the Republicans are to win in '54.

Early in the administration, the White House wooed the AFL and ignored the CIO. It virtually turned the Labor department into an AFL subsidiary. That failed when Martin Durkin resigned.

Now the White House is edging slightly towards the CIO, and Walter Reuther, with vast new plans and new propaganda media, is bouncing back with enough influence to go it alone.

Cool Christmas

By Inez Robb

Long range weather forecasts are a bit out of my province. But from where I stand now, I can draw an exact bead on the weather for Dec. 25, 1953.

INEZ ROBB

It's going to be a cool Christmas, man. Real cool.

This solid prediction is based on the announcement that an album of bop or jive Christmas classics is being prepared for the yuletide trade. A Miss Sunny Gale has recorded the new carols, including "Put The Loot In My Boot Over The Fireplace" and "Santa Claus Is Goofing In Town."

THESE BALLADS will undoubtedly replace in popular favor last season's Kinseyan lieder "I Saw Mamma Kissing Santa Claus" and the previous yuletide's WCTU theme song "Rudolph, The Red Nosed Reindeer."

I don't know just where this will leave "White Christmas," "Jingle Bells" and "Silent Night," except at the starting post. It is just possible that after the first bop yuletide is over, some of us who used to feel there was a surfeit of "White Christmas" in the air in season now may recapitulate and realize we never had it so good.

However, there is a charming simplicity and a forthright sentiment in "Put The Loot In My Boot Over The Fireplace" which, unlike much bop talk, makes it readily understood. It has the same direct approach as "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend."

IT WAS EASY enough for me to get the gist of this carol: just put the rocks in the sox on the mantel, and no questions answered. It won't be too difficult for non-bopsters like myself to dig this tender sentiment.

But I'm not so sure about "Santa Claus Is Goofing In Town." This requires interpretation. It seems to me, if the average citizen is really to know what Santa is going, jivewise, during the coming yuletide.

In crises of this type, I turn as a homing pigeon to our assorted Harvard office boys. My faith was not misplaced and I can now offer two definitions of "goofing." It can mean either "to fool around" or "to black out."

Thus old St. Nick, as this ballad title implies, will be fooling around or blacking out in town. Take your pick.

Why he should be doing either is probably something that only a bopster can understand.

Whether he will be sliding down chimneys and depositing the loot in the boot in traditional fashion only time can tell. It can only be presumed that Santa is real gone, even frantic, over his job and will be in the groove as usual.

"Christmas—it wails!" declared one of my bop informants. "That old man in the red vine, he's stoned!"

In Esperanto or basic English, the above interprets as "Christmas — it's great, it's wonderful. That old man Santa in the red vine suit is out of this world." In brief, it's the hipster's endorsement of both Christmas and Santa.

-:-

THE HARVARD element said Miss Sunny Gale is a female Frankie Laine and seemed to feel that this was a fine thing to be.

"She's a swingin' chick," said one.

"He means she's a cool girl," explained another.

"It'll be a real crazy Christmas," prophesied a third.

Well, a merry Christmas to you, too, and don't forget to put the kippers in my slippers on the hearth.

Maryland Roof Signs Confusing to Aviators

HANCOCK, Md. (AP)—A sign on a roof here could turn a lot of fliers into Wrong Way Corrigans.

The sign says this is Sandy Hook. Sandy Hook is 30 miles southeast of here. What apparently caused the snafu is that there are two Shamrock Inns in Washington County—one here, one at Sandy Hook.

Walter Mills, owner of the Hancock Shamrock, said a man in uniform painted a guide sign for fliers on the roof. Turned out it said Sandy Hook. Mills said that months ago the man promised to correct the mistake but hasn't yet.

Richard Jamison, state director of aeronautics, said he'd look into the matter.

Stennis Urges Showdown on Arming Europe

Senator Asks France Be Forced To Ratify Admission of Germans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), declaring America cannot continue indefinitely its manpower and financial commitments abroad, today urged a showdown with France on creation of a European army.

Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, spoke out in an interview after Secretary of Defense Wilson had told a news conference yesterday he believed in the long run development of new weapons would permit a cut in United States troop strength in Europe. Wilson didn't define "long run".

Matter of Choice

Wilson said cryptically that "whether we take our load in air power or in ground troops is a thing that has to be worked out." This may have been a hint of a future decision by the United States to pull back some of its infantry strength in Europe, now the equivalent of six Army divisions.

Stennis, a member of a subcommittee which reported last week after a tour of bases that this country has increased aerial striking power in Europe and Africa, said he thinks German soldiers must be brought into the Western ranks.

"We cannot and should not continue indefinitely to carry so large a part of the money and manpower burdens of this program," he said. "No permanent and effective defense of Europe can be carried out without German soldiers in the plan.

Next Move France's

"The next move is up to France, and if she does not agree I think we should make alternative proposals that will include German soldiers and leave France and Italy out. This matter cannot be further delayed."

Formation of a Western European army—projected to include troops from France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—has been stalled for months. Only West Germany has ratified the necessary treaties.

Specialty Numbers Selected

Rehearsals Start Today For Show, Set Nov. 5, 6

Tryouts were held Monday night and rehearsals got under way today for the "Follies of 1953," to be presented Nov. 5 and 6, in the Palace Theater, under the sponsorship of the Junior Service Guild.

Between 150 and 200 persons turned out for the talent roundup at the YMCA where Robert Cowell of the Jerome H. Cargill Co. of New York, show director, began his job of selecting the cast.

SIXTEEN SPECIALTY numbers were auditioned last night, and tonight at 7:30, auditions for those taking part in the skits and sketches will be held at the Y. The specialty numbers include soloists, both men and women, tap dance routines and an instrumental trio number.

Some 60 high school girls who turned out for tryouts in the chorus gave Cowell some rough moments when they picked up the routines quickly and easily. Their attractiveness and bubbling enthusiasm made cutting the number to fit the chorus line doubly difficult, he said today. Chorus rehearsals got under way today.

REHEARSALS WILL BE staggered for the various units and will be held at the Moose Hall and the Y. "It will be hard work but there will be fun, too," Cowell said in briefing the performers last night. He emphasized the importance of being prompt for all rehearsals and strict attention at all times. Chorus lines, he said, will work out in highheeled shoes and for rehearsals will wear slacks or shorts to allow freedom of movement.

WHILE IT IS Cowell's first appearance here as a director, it is his second visit to Marion. He recalled that in 1946 he appeared a the juvenile lead in the show, "Dear Ruth," given at the Palace and this was the first time his name had appeared in lights on a theater marquee. He received his original theatrical training at the Pasadena Playhouse in 1943-45 and later played various roles in the New Jersey winter stock.

He toured seven months with the road company of "Dear Ruth" before joining the Straw Hat Revue as a singer, dancer, actor and stage manager and also directing dance numbers and skits.

Between seasons in his professional work he served as a director with the Cargill Co.

Ohioan Is Star Trial Witness In Charleston

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The defense opened its case today in the trial of Robert Roy Taylor, one of three men accused of attempting an armed robbery of Charleston Atty. W. T. (Billy) Thomas.

Prosecutor J. Blackburn Watts scheduled two additional state's witnesses prior to defense testimony in Kanawha County Intermediate Court here.

A principal witness for the prosecution in yesterday's opening session was Sidney Blankenship, 52, of Chillicothe, Ohio, who with John T. Lawson of Huntington and Taylor are the alleged principals. The cases of Blankenship and Lawson await the outcome of Taylor's trial.

Blankenship named Taylor as the planner of the attempted robbery, which was broken up by gunplay. He said he and Taylor met in Florida, and planned the robbery in Huntington where they picked up Lawson.

The state contends Taylor and Blankenship approached Thomas' house last April 6 with the intent to rob; Thomas answered the door with a revolver in hand and firing followed. Both Thomas and Blankenship were wounded, and Taylor fled.

Taylor denied having any part of the holdup.

JOHN HIGGERT

Auto Demolished In Morrow Crash

An automobile was demolished at 12:15 this morning when it collided with a semi-truck on Route 42 in Morrow County, just north of Johnsville.

A passenger in the car, Orville Bradley, 29, of Chesterville, was taken to Mansfield City Hospital where he was treated for multiple cuts and bruises of the head and body, state highway patrolmen from the Marion post reported.

Beach Bradley, 33, of Marengo, driver of the car, was charged with driving while intoxicated and ordered to appear before Justice of the Peace Spriggs of Mt. Gilead at 7 p.m. today.

Driver of the truck was Bruce Price, 50, of Cincinnati.

At the time of the accident Bradley was south-bound and the truck was approaching from the opposite direction.

According to the patrol, Bradley apparently made an improper turn in front of the truck which swerved to the left in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the collision.

The truck received extensive damage on the right front.

FCC Hearing Set on TV Permits for Portsmouth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The communications commission is to consider today a motion by Woodruff, Inc., to withdraw its application for a television station on Channel 3 in Portsmouth, Ohio.

The application had been tentatively accepted but attorneys said Woodruff is owned by Edward Lamb, publisher of the Erie (Pa.) Dispatch, who has arranged to buy television station WTVQ in Pittsburgh. Should that purchase be approved, Lamb would then have the limit of five TV outlets.

School Pupils Get TB Tests

Chest X-Rays Given Today at Harding High

Tuberculosis X-ray tests began today at Harding High School for the high school students and faculty and staff personnel from the entire city school system.

The chest X-rays are slated to be continued tomorrow in the mobile unit of the Anti-Tuberculosis League which is stationed in the automotive shop.

Students at St. Mary High School, sophomores, juniors and seniors, and faculty and cafeteria personnel will be taking the tests at the unit in front of the school on Thursday.

Positive X-ray reports would be sent within a few weeks to the student's family and family physician.

The mobile unit tests are made available through the annual Christmas seal campaign.

Chili Bread With Chili Stew Is Delicious

Here's something the men in your family will like. Chili bread with chili stew. They will be especially welcomed these cool evenings. Make lots of stew, it's good warmed over for school lunches next day.

To get the right amount of chili powder in your stew, start with a moderate amount and increase it until it tastes right to you.

Good recipes to follow for both the bread and stew are:

Chili Bread: 1 long loaf French or Italian bread, 6 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1½ teapoons chili powder.

Split bread in half lengthwise, then slice across — not cutting through bottom crust. Soften or melt butter and mix with chili powder. Spread on slices (or brush on with pastry brush). Place on baking pan and heat through well in moderate oven (375 degrees F.)—about 10 minutes. If desired the bread may be wrapped in metal foil before baking.

Beef Stew Chili: 2 lbs beef stew meat, 1 medium onion, sliced, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 8-oz. can tomato sauce, water to cover, 1 teaspoon chili powder (more if you like it hot), ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper, ½ teaspoon garlic salt, 1 bay leaf, 1 teaspoon whole oregano leaves, 6 small whole white onions, 4 whole carrots, 4 medium potatoes.

Brown meat and sliced onion in the fat. Add tomato sauce and water to cover. Cover and simmer 2 hours. Add seasonings, spices and vegetables. Simmer ½ hour longer or until vegetables are tender. Add a little more water if necessary. Thicken gravy with flour if desired. Serves 4-5.

Harding, St. Mary Prepare for Tough League Tests

Prexies at Peak Strength: Irish Plagued by Injuries

Harding and St Mary gridders are drilling for league games this week. Harding plays Thursday night at Findlay while the Irish host Richwood Saturday night.

Both teams came through rugged contests Friday night and are expecting even more trouble this week

Harding dropped its first decision of the season, a 20-13 loss to Columbus Central, during its homecoming observance but Prexy Coach Pete Howison reports his squad came through with no serious injuries Doug Bibler re-injured an ankle but seems to have shaken it off.

With the exception of Jim Whanes who was hospitalized last week, the Prexies will be at full strength for the Buckeye League battle at Findlay.

The Presidents went through a long rough drill session yesterday in an attempt to polish their attack and tighten their defense for the power-packed Trojans. Last week, Findlay dumped Dayton Roosevelt from the ranks of the undefeated 6-0.

Pete reports Harding will be in "as good a shape as can be expected" for the tussle Due to a district teachers' meeting in the Findlay area, the game will be played Thursday night.

A win for the Prexies would sew up a share of the Buckeye League crown Harding has three wins in league play and is currently tied with Fremont Ross for the top spot The Trojans, who run out of a single wing, dropped their only loss in the league to Fremont

Coach Ray Robbins, even though his charges came home with a win over Columbus St. Mary, was not so lucky. Several of the Irish bridders were "pretty well banged up" in the game, the Irish mentor reports

Most serious of the injuries was a jaw injury suffered by Bob Campton He was smacked in the face during a scrimmage and school officials are still not certain whether or not the jaw is fractured X-rays were taken yesterday and a report was expected sometime today.

Chuck Mitchell, another lineman, also took a severe beating about the face as did John Kelly and Ed Quinn. Ray is hoping the entire squad will be ready however, when the team meets Richwood at Harding Stadium Saturday night.

The Irish and Tigers are tied for the lead in the Mid-Ohio Conference, each boasting two wins The Irish, however have the most impressive overall mark. They have notched four wins and as yet have held their opponents scoreless

In league play, St Mary has rolled up 63 points in the two games. Richwood's total is 38 with one touchdown scored by the opposition.

Irish Hanging On as Nation's No. 1 Grid Team

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame is leading the national football ranking list for the fourth straight week, but next Saturday the Fighting Irish faces a double threat to their hold on first place

After last week's 23-14 victory over Pittsburgh, Notre Dame polled 57 first-place votes out of 134 cast in the fourth weekly Associated Press ranking poll. The Irish haven't been displaced since the nation's sport writers and broadcasters picked them in the preseason poll as the team most likely to succeed

But their two closest rivals in the weekly balloting, Michigan State and Maryland, were closer than ever before when the points were totaled up on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc

Notre Dame wound up with 1,153 points and a margin of only 46 points over runner-up Michigan State A week ago, Notre Dame had 74 first-place votes and 1 228 points to 14 and 977 for Michigan State

Not only is the balloting closer but on Saturday Notre Dame must meet fourth-ranked Georgia Tech in a game that could completely upset the standings Tech a team that didn't show much offense in its early games, got started against Tulane a week ago and rolled over threatening Auburn by a 36-6 count last Saturday to climb from sixth place to fouth in the rankings.

Michigan State an easy winner over Indiana, collected 31 votes for first place and 1,107 points this week while Maryland, breezing past North Carolina as easily as its earlier opponents, polled 27 firsts and 1 004 points Georgia Tech with only three firsts, received 769 points

Rounding out the first 10 are Michigan, Baylor, Illinois, West Virginia, Oklahoma and Navy

The top 10 (first-place votes in parentheses)

1	Notre Dame (57)	1153
2	Michigan State (31)	1107
3	Maryland (27)	1004
4	Georgia Tech (3)	769
5	Michigan	683
6	Baylor (1)	623
7	Illinois (1)	531
8	West Virginia (12)	299
9	Oklahoma (1)	277
10	Navy	198

Penn Faces Rugged Battle With Navy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Red and Blue gridders of the University of Pennsylvania, smarting under consecutive defeats by California and Ohio State, got little consolation from their backfield coach yesterday

Bill Talerico who scouted Navy at their roughshod 65-7 victory over Princeton last Saturday, reports the Middies are the best football team out of Annapolis since 1945 That's the last year the Midshipmen marched off Franklin Field with a victory over Penn in the annual rivalry

The two clash again Saturday with Penn a decided underdog Last year's contest ended in a 7-7 deadlock

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Being closeted in a world of darkness as a result of total blindness is no handicap for Otis Scott who has taken over directing the health center at the new Marion YMCA

SHORT

The Marion native, who lost his sight as a result of an eye infection while serving with Gen Mark Clark's Fifth Army in Italy during World War II has already been tabbed as a top-flight masseur by business men who frequent the health center He has been there just over one week

Scott, happy and carefree despite his handicap, says that several eye surgeons have been unable to determine the cause of the infection. Fifty per cent of his vision was gone at the time of his discharge and less than a year later he was blind

Since that time nine operations have failed to restore his vision although he was able to see for a brief period after one He discusses his misfortune easily and is the first person to point out his loss was not caused by any wounds suffered during the war.

He should have little trouble in building up a substantial business A former star athlete at Harding High School, Otis is well-known to most of the Y patrons. He was a member of the Harding football squad which went undefeated in 1939 and also was on the North Central Ohio championship track team that year During the winter of his senior year he was crowned welterweight champion of the Marion Golden Gloves.

OTIS ENLISTED in the Army shortly after his graduation when World War II clouds continued to loom He thought it wise to enlist early and get it over with. 'Getting it over with' required four years, four months and seven days

He received his massage training at the Great Lakes Medical College at Cleveland He won't talk about it but Vern Miller of the Y staff reports he finished up No 1 in his class.

The Y health center is his first post in Marion although he received some experience at the Great Lakes College clinic.

The new building gives Marion a complete health center for the first time. While the hours have not been definitely set pending the final setting up of the complete program, Scott expects no trouble in handling the persons wishing to use the facilities of the center. Offered by the center are massage, community steam bath room, infra-red and ultra-violet lamp treatments and electric heat cabinet.

The services are available to members of the athletic club, senior YMCA members and non-members, Scott reported.

In 1934 the Detroit Lions, in their first season in the NFL, won seven straight shutouts a record which still stands

NCAA Package Grid Telecast Set This Week

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. serves up its four-for-one package in football television Saturday.

It's the so-called panoramic experiment, tried for the first time this year, in which parts of four games in widely separated parts of the country will be shown instead of one complete contest.

Here's the program, to be beamed over the NBC network starting at 1 45 p m, EST.

2 p m —Princeton vs. Cornell at Princeton, N J

2 30 p m.—Illinois vs. Syracuse at Champaign, Ill

2 30 p m.—Iowa vs. Indiana at Iowa City

3 p m —Arkansas vs. Mississippi at Memphis

Tom Gallery, NBC sports director, said today the panorama won't present a quarter from each game but will switch back and forth among the sites to record action where it is thickest.

An effort will be made to have an equal portion of each game on the television screen, he added, but the primary objective will be to keep the liveliest action in front of the camera at all times.

For instance, suppose Arkansas and Mississipi are knocking heads in midfield at Memphis while an interesting touchdown situation arises at Iowa City. The picture will be shifted immediately to Iowa City.

To do this, it has been necessary to set up complete TV equipment and crews at all sites with a central monitoring point at Chicago.

Simultaneously the four games will be beamed to four giant screens in Chicago, where the producer, Bill Garden, will make the switches.

This is one of two panoramic programs scheduled for the year. The other is Nov. 7 when games will be Georgia at Florida, North Carolina at South Carolina, Northwestern at Wisconsin and Kansas State at Kansas.

Steel can be rolled so thin that 20 sheets of it are needed to equal the thickness of a human hair.

Bucks' Borton May Be Ready For Some Play

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fresh from a "squeaker" victory that experts thought should have been a "breather," Ohio State's bruised football team is pointing for Saturday's Big Ten tussle with Wisconsin.

And Coach Woody Hayes says his boys will be up for this "tough one"

The Bucks relaxed yesterday, watching films of their 12-6 win over Pennsylvania and drilling lightly indoors. But the State brain trust was working overtime.

Hayes and his coaching staff were debating who to drop to second string to give Tom Hague the starting nod at end Hague, the Rocky River lad Hayes calls the best end on the squad, will force either Dean Dugger or Co-Capt Bob Joslin down a notch

Apparently Joslin will be the boy to make way for Hague. Hayes said Bob's performance on offense and defense has been hampered by the one-platoon system

Team doctors had some good news and some bad. They said the Bucks' top-flight quarterback, John Borton, would be able to see some action Saturday Borton rode the injury bench during the Penn game.

Carroll Howell, the steadily improving halfback from Portsmouth, however, is too banged up to play against Wisconsin.

Only one key man on the Wisconsin team appears likely to miss action this weekend. He's halfback Roger Dornburg.

Cincy, Toledo Grab Lead in IHL Activities

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Mohawks and the Toledo Mercurys who finished first and third respectively last season in the International Hockey League, are out in front at the end of the first week of the 1953 54 campaign

The Mohawks, who ran away with the regular season and playoff championships last season, showed tremendous scoring power in winning their first two games but they dropped a 6-3 overtime game to Troy Sunday. Troy was runnerup in 1952-53.

Toledo opened the season with a 4-2 victory over Grand Rapids and a 6-0 triumph over Johnstown, Pa.

Johnstown, one of three newcomers to the league, won 1 lost 1, and tied 1 in the first week Marion split even in its first two games and Louisville lost its only start They are the other two new loop members.

Milwaukee, finishing a bad last is the only team still to see action

Ready Challenger

Kid Gavilan Wants Chance At Olson-Turpin Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—The new middleweight champion of the world—Randy Turpin or Bobo Olson—will have a ready challenger in Kid Gavilan, the welter champ.

The Cuban kid, training at Summit, N J., for a Nov. 13 defense against Johnny Bratton at Chicago, is anxious to jump into the 160-pound division against the winner of tomorrow's 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

"Win or lose with Bratton, we want Turpin or Olson next," said Angel Lopez, Gavilan's manager "Personally I like Turpin a little bit But who knows'"

Who knows? That is the story of this Olson-Turpin match in which baldish Bobo from Honolulu and San Francisco is an 11 to 5 favorite

Almost to a man, the managers and trainers who make boxing their business lean toward Olson They respect Turpin for his first fight with Sugar Ray Robinson but they have been bewildered by his sporadic training

Even Jack Solomons, the London promoter, admitted, "He hasn't done enough boxing to suit me" Solomons, whose biggest drawing card is Turpin said the British Negro appeared "out of distance, (off on his timing)"

Turpin may pick up new support if he makes the weight as easily as his manager thinks He weighed 161 when examined Thursday George Middleton, his manager said yesterday, "He will have not the slightest trouble making the 160-pound limit" When Randy fought Charles Humez for the European title in June, he had to sweat off half a pound in a steam bath after the weigh-in.

The moody Turpin, who ran from British boxing writers and made himself most unpopular with a large percentage of the press, reportedly has given way to a new spirit of smiles and sunshine

"We are quite happy about Randolph's cheerful spirits," said Middleton at the Grossinger, N Y., camp. "He was a bit homesick, you know"

By the sea at Asbury Park, N J., Olson quietly prepares for his most important fight. After road work and shadow boxing he weighed 161 pounds Although he hasn't overdone his boxing, he has worked on a consistent schedule for a total of 70 rounds in 22 days Turpin boxed about 27 rounds in five workouts in the mountains but reportedly did his heavy drills in Britain.

The International Boxing Club said there was a lively interest in ringside seats with about $85 000 in advance sale. Best guess on the crowd probably is 15,000 paying $140,000. The bout will be carried on CBS network radio and television with New York and a 75-mile area blacked out of the TV picture

Both fighters break camp today to go into hiding in New York until weigh-in time tomorrow.

Massillon Tops Poll

3 of Top 10 Prep School Grid Teams Suffer Losses

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two new teams, Youngstown East and Cleveland Benedictine, popped into the "top 10" of Ohio's high school football teams today as three of last week's elite went down in defeat.

Middletown, Hamilton and Dayton Roosevelt fell in the heavy weekend fuing, and only Glenn (Tiger) Ellison's Middies stayed in the select group, although skidding from fifth to a seventh place tie.

Massillon, hot after its sixth straight state championship, was well situated in the top spot at the season's halfway mark. Portsmouth, which desmirched Middletown's record with an 18-14 thumping, was second, and Warren Harding, which crushed Cleveland East 45-0, was third. Massillon whipped Alliance 33-7.

Two unbeaten-untied parochial schools, Cincinnati Purcell and Dayton Chaminade, held fourth and fifth. Purcell ousted Hamilton from the top 10 by a 26-6 score, while Chaminade jumped a notch by zooming past Dayton Wilbur Wright 47-7. Chaminade has the top scoring record among the leaders having piled up 217 points in 5 wins, to Massillon's 202.

Bill Kidd's New Philadelphia powerhouse, boasting the only unsullied goal line, tied with the Middies for seventh, jumping from 10th with a 13-0 win over Canton Timken.

Ninth place went to Cleveland Benedictine, winner of five straight while Youngstown East eased into the 10th spot.

Of the top 10, Mansfield and Middletown have been beaten once in 5 starts, and Youngstown East tied but the other 7 have won 5 in a row.

The scoring records of the 10 leaders: Massillon 202-26, Portsmouth 165-35, Warren 153-45, Cincinnati Purcell 134-26, Dayton Chaminade 217-40, Mansfield 124-54, Middletown 101-33, New Philadelphia 138-0, Cleveland Benedictine 124-12, and Youngstown East 135-46. Eleventh place Fremont Ross has won five straight with a 169-20 mark.

From here and there: Massillon meets sixth-place Mansfield this week, and the crowd should jump over the 13,036 which saw the Tigers whip Alliance. Coming up after that for the champs are unbeaten Warren, once-beaten Toledo Waite, unbeaten Fremont Ross and not-too-impressive Canton McKinley.

Another big one this week is the Warren — Cleveland Benedictine clash between two unbeaten members of the top 10. Second-place Portsmouth takes on Dayton Stivers, and the Trojans are favored heavily.

Last year Marietta lost nine straight under new Coach Fred Pierson, but the River City team has won four of five this season, has a 3-0 mark in the Central Ohio loop, and Friday beat Newark 20-13 for its first win over the Wildcats since 1937. It's practically the same team Marietta fielded a year ago, but canny Pierson's had time to polish it.

A couple of weeks ago Fremont Ross wrecked Findlay 53-0. Friday night Findlay nosed out Dayton Roosevelt, rated ninth in the state, by 6-0. Roosevelt was inside Findlay's 20-yard line 12 times and failed to score, but Findlay made good on its lone jaunt inside Roosevelt's 30.

Springfield broke its two-game losing streak, 34-26, at the expense of Toledo Libbey. It was the 66th win against 29 losses and five ties for Coach Jim McDonald as he hit the 100-game mark.

Middletown scored its two touchdowns against Portsmouth in the last two minutes, after the Trojans had piled up an 18-point lead, but the Middies did it against the first-stringers. The Middies had allowed only 15 points in four previous games.

Here's how 33 radio and newspaper sports editors rate Ohio's teams this week. Shown are the first place votes and the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis.

Mentors Still Disagree Over Platoon Ruling

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that the coaches have had a chance to get used to the one-platoon system of football and work the bugs out, you'd think there would be some agreement among them on its benefits, if any.

There isn't.

The Associated Press today asked seven well-known coaches around the country how they were doing. Two said they liked it, three couldn't see it at all, and two more merely pointed to some of its problems. The most outspoken against it were Army's Earl (Red) Blaik and Princeton's Charlie Caldwell.

Red Sanders of UCLA, the favorite in the Pacific Coast Conference until it was beaten by Stanford last week, admits that it isn't doing his team any good, but that it's best for football over the long run.

George Sauer of Baylor, the team that could walk off with the Southwest Conference title, still likes it. He predicted before the season started that high scores would continue and that a good player could go 60 minutes. He also thinks it has helped his defense.

Army's Blaik, whose team rose to a 14-13 upset over Duke in its last outing, says the one-platoon system goes against the concept of present-day education.

"The boys are too tired to study on Sunday when they should be studying," he said. "Our kids were so knocked out we have to cut some of their uniforms off after the Duke game."

Said Caldwell, whose club has lost but two games in the last 32, including last week's 55-7 slaughter at the hands of Navy:

"The rules makers weren't thinking of the boys when they installed the one-platoon system. It requires more stamina from the boys. The kids on my team don't like it at all and therefore I don't like it."

Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd, who has guided his club to a 31-game defeatless skein, is still opposed to the new rule. He said he has had to use Dave Davis, his top punter a great deal, although he is only a third-string end, because plans to use spot kickers proved unsatisfactory.

"We don't see where it helped in any way," he commented. "We still are playing two teams just as we did last year, but half the time the boys are forced to play a type of football they do not excel in."

Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, the No. 1 team in the country in the Associated Press rankings, and Ray Eliot of Illinois, a contender for the Big Ten title, did not voice definite opinions but instead pointed to some problems.

Elliot said he was troubled because of the rise in injuries which he attributes to the players being in action more.

Leahy said there was a hesitancy to substitute during certain periods of the game.

Columbus Derailment Is Blamed on Vandals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The sheriff's office today blamed vandals for derailment of a locomotive and seven freight cars of a New York Central train here last night. Damage was estimated between $300,000 and $500,000.

No one was hurt. Investigators said a switch had been pried open. About 350 feet of main track and a side track were torn up.

Slayer of Ohioan Should Never Be Free, Judge Says

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The judge who sentenced the slayer of Ohio's assistant industrial relations director to life imprisonment recommends he never be paroled.

Common Pleas Judge Clarence J. Crossland, in a letter to the state pardon and parole commission yesterday described Harold St. John, 25, of Dorchester, Mass., as "incorrigible."

He said the man who killed Joseph W. Harding, 53, of Cuyahoga Falls "was crafty, designing and aggressively criminal in tendency and purpose."

St. John was convicted early this month on second-degree murder charges. He would be eligible for parole in 20 years.

By 1960, it is estimated that the United States will rely on oil and natural gas for about two-thirds of its energy.

Giant Health Center Planned At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UP) — The University of Pittsburgh is going to put some $75 000 000 into the creation of what well may be one of the most impressive health centers in the world

The University has appointed Dr Robert Moore now dean of the medical school at Washington University in St Louis as vice chancellor in charge of the Schools of the Health Professions to guide the proposed expansion of Pitt's already notable Medical Center

The program worked out by Moore after a survey of present facilities calls for the construction of 10 new buildings in the Medical Center and additons to two others In a larger sense, it envisions the integration of five schools — medicine, dentistry pharmacy, nursing and public health—with each other with allied departmens of the university and with associated hospitals and clinics to form a single coordinated medical unit

About $30 000 000 has been earmarked for new construction This will pay for building—among other things—a new Graduate School of Public Health an administrative headquarters for the medical and nursing schools a new dental school clinic, new facilities for the pharmacy school, additional laboratories and extra classrooms and dormitories for medical students

The approximately $45 000 000 also involved in the project will be used chiefly as investment capital to insure an income for support of the schools

Moore has been promised about $45 000 000 to work with when he takes over his new post next summer Assured of ample funds from the university and the backing of the foundations and industries of Pittsburgh, Moore will begin fashioning a new epoch in a medical organization already widely known for its work against polio cancer, emotional disturbances and occupational diseases
